THIS MASSIVE SOLAR PARK AT PAVAGADA UPS HEAT

CHETANA BELAGERE, ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Pavagada

IT is a large sheet of glass that stretches as far as the eye can see. Acres and acres of black solar panels, spread across 12,800 acres to be precise, glimmer in the Sun, making the solar park at Pavagada taluk in Tumakuru district one of the biggest in Asia.

Launched in 2018, this alternative energy facility was meant to be the answer to environmentally hazardous thermal and nuclear power energy sources. But this ultra-modern, eco-friendly solution has brought misery to villagers nearby.

The New Indian Express visited the surrounding villages to understand how their lives have changed since the solar park came up about four-and-a-half years ago.

The common complaint is the noticeable change in temperature.

SOLAR PARK FLARES
PART – I

"Pavagada is hot, but the heat is even more unbearable now. We don't know whether it is because of the solar park. But definitely, our nights have become warmer even during winters. Days are burning hot in summer," said residents of the Dalit Colony at Vallur.

The Solar Park spreads across 12,800 acres at Pavagada in Tumakuru district. It is said to be one of the largest photovoltaic solar parks in the world | ASHISHKRISHNA HP

Vallur is one of the five villages -- Tirumani, Balasamudram, Kyatagancharulu and Rayacharulu -- where the Karnataka Solar Power Development Corporation Ltd (KSPDCL) leased land from farmers to set up Shakti Sthala, which was the biggest solar park in the world in 2018.

"Earlier, we used to sleep outside only during summer. But now we do it in all seasons," said Narayanappa, a villager. KSPDCL was supposed to plant trees but nothing has been done, he added.

The villagers complained that the temperature has gone up at least by 5 degrees Celsius (from around 32 degrees Celsius to 37 degrees Celsius). But researchers and scientists, who have visited the place, said the increase is marginal at around 0.5 to 1 degree Celsius in areas located close to the panels.

Srinivas Reddy, a former director of the Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre and Senior Consultant at the Disaster Management Authority, said the authorities should install temperature sensor at 1, 3 and 5 km radius from the solar park site to gather better data.

India walks the retaliatory quarantine talk

Impose it on UK nationals entering country as Britain yet to recognise Indian vax report

PUSHKAR BANAKAR @New Delhi

AFTER warning Britain that its failure to recognise Indian vaccine certificates could lead to reciprocal action, India on Friday walked its talk, imposing mandatory quarantine on visiting UK nationals.

According to the new guidelines that will come into effect from Monday (October 4), UK nationals, irrespective of their vaccination status, must take a pre-departure RT-PCR test within 72 hours of travel; a Covid test upon arrival at any airport in the country; and a test on the eighth day of their arrival. "UK nationals will also have to undergo quarantine at home or in the destination address for 10 days after arrival in India," sources said.

Authorities in the Union health ministry and the ministry of civil aviation have been tasked with implementing the new measures.

The decision comes weeks after Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla called out the UK's travel guidelines that imposed mandatory quarantine from October 4 on even double-jabbed fliers from countries that were not on its approved list, including India. He said they were discriminatory, adding New Delhi could impose reciprocal measures for British travellers if the UK did not recognise vaccine certificates issued by the National Health Authority's CoWin app.

Trouble emerged when initially Britain did not include Serum Institute of India-manufactured Covishield on its list of approved vaccines. Days later after uproar, the vaccine, which was developed by University of Oxford and pharma giant AstraZeneca, was added to the UK list of approved vaccines.

However, the UK government said arrivals from India would still need to undergo mandatory quarantine as there were issues with the vaccine certificates being issued. British High Commissioner to India Alex Ellis subsequently held a meeting with National Health Authority Chief Executive Officer R S Sharma and said neither side has any technical issues with the vaccine certificates. Yet, the matter remains unresolved.

Navy team caught in avalanche, 5 missing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Dehradun

FIVE mountaineers of the Indian Navy went missing in Uttarakhand on Friday after they were hit by an avalanche on Friday morning. Five out of the 10-member group were later rescued. They were on their way to the peak of Mount Trishul in Bageshwar district when an avalanche hit them. A joint team of the Army, Air Force and State Disaster Response Force are looking for the missing personnel, the Navy said in a statement.

Mountaineers from the Nehru Institute of Mountaineering (NIM) Uttarkashi are also helping with ground search. Amit Bisht, dean of NIM, said, "The team members were on the last leg of the expedition when they were hit by the avalanche at around 5 am on Friday. A six-member team from NIM has joined the search and rescue operations."

Tatas top bidder for Air India, no govt word yet

ANURADHA SHUKLA @New Delhi

TATA Sons is set to take over Air India as it has emerged the top bidder for the debt-laden state carrier. An official announcement will be made after the Union cabinet clears the deal, sources said.

"The government received all the bids on the last day for accepting bids — September 15. Tata Sons proposed the highest price to take over the airline. After the Cabinet nod is obtained, an announcement will be made," a senior finance ministry official told this paper.

The official, however, refused to divulge any details about the exact bidding amount except that "it is substantial".

Apart from the Tata Group, SpiceJet chairman and MD Ajay Singh had also placed financial bids for the airline in his personal capacity.

After the news of Tatas winning the bid broke, the finance ministry issued a clarification. "Media reports indicating approval of financial bids by Government of India in the AI disinvestment case are incorrect.

Media will be informed of the Government decision as and when it is taken," said Tuhin Kanta Pandey, Secretary, Department of Investment and Public Asset Management.

Senior officials in the know of the process claim that one of the reasons why the government did not want to come clean on the issue is because the Tata Group had proposed to acquire around 15% of the airline's total debt with certain conditions relaxed, which needs top level negotiation.

Air India had accumulated losses of ₹70,820 crore as on March 31, 2020, according to the latest available numbers.

The government wants to divest its 76% stake in Air India, which is crucial to achieve the Budget target of raising ₹1.75 lakh crore from divestment.

SC notice to Centre on city lawyer's PIL

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

A petition by a Bengaluru-based corporate lawyer and mother of two adopted children, who has questioned the maternity policy of the Central government that discriminates against adoptive mothers, led the Supreme Court to issue a notice to the Centre on Friday.

In her public interest litigation (Hamsaanandini Nanduri Vs Union of India), she has challenged a provision of the Maternity Benefit Act which says adoptive mothers are eligible for maternity leave only if they adopted children are below three months old. She has also objected to the period of maternity leave as an adoptive mother gets 12 weeks, while a biological mother is granted 26 weeks.

Hamsaanandini, who launched a campaign on change.org a few days ago and got signatures of 28,506, said, "I am grateful to the honourable court for seeing merit."

DIVYA CUTINHO @Mangaluru

ONE more male bastion conquered. This season, five girls from Dakshina Kannada district will be trained to participate in the high-adrenaline, physically demanding Kambala race, which has till now remained a male-dominated sport.

Breaking the tradition, the Kambala Academy has allowed them to be Kambala jockeys, who will be steering their buffaloes through slushy tracks.

Once the training of male participants is completed, separate sessions will be held for the five girls.

"When I decided to include women, I got a threat. Why should we not give opportunities to women when they themselves are interested? Their parents too have agreed. They will be trained at least for five days and they will participate with buffaloes raised at their homes. Despite opposition, we will hold a special Kambala exclusively for these girls at Moodbidri this season. In the coming days, more women will come forward. Already, women are allowed in Yakshagana, which had for a long time remained male-only at form," said Gunapal Kadamba, convener of Kambala Conservation, Monitoring and Training Academy.

He said that women Kambala enthusiasts will also be allowed to commentate and bring buffaloes to the starting point of the track.

METRO UNDERGROUND WORKS

Water seeps into sumps near Nagawara

Residents witness water mysteriously filling up basements, civic body clueless

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

IT is a unique kind of water-related issue that residents of Rashad Nagar, near Nagawara Main Road, have been facing for over a month. Clean water has been seeping into sumps in basements, and filling them up. While residents point to Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) and its ongoing underground tunnelling work for causing the issue, Metro officials ruled out their role.

Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) had conducted repeated tests to track the water source, stopped water completely and even took the help of geologists to tackle the issue. "We are clueless. Anywhere in Nagawara where houses are in the basement, water spouts even if you dig 4 feet deep. Residents have just woken up to the problem in the last two months, but we have seen it happening for nearly six months," said Channa Basavaiah, Assistant Executive Engineer, (East-2), BWSSB.

He said the water is not fit for consumption as it is hard water. "We supply Cauvery water only twice a week, and that too only for one or two hours. It is just not possible for any leaks to fill up sumps like this," said Basavaiah, adding, "Our senior officers, after spot inspection, felt it could be due to Metro construction, unrelated to tunnelling. BMRCL has built a 25-metre concrete structure below the ground opposite Arabic College, for piling work for its upcoming Metro station. It could be blocking the pores below the ground, and the water could be finding an outlet like this," he added.

BMRCL officials ruled out any chance of underground tunnelling causing a leak. Meanwhile, Rashad Nagar resident, Khamar Taj told TNIE, "More water is always welcome. But the bigger problem is, we are worried that if it remains stagnant below, it could weaken the foundation, risking our houses."

Mohammad Nayaz Ur Rahman said, "We also found cracks in our sumps and tried to bring masons to fix it. But they say it could not be done as water continuously seeps through." Javedullah Khan said, "We empty the sump and find it full the next day."

School rush: BMTC adds 100 more buses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BENGALURU Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) will be operating 100 additional services from October 4 to accommodate the growing rush in buses. This is in addition to the existing services. Currently, BMTC operates 4,953 buses.

The corporation adopted the wait-and-watch policy to gauge the increase in demand for buses based on tickets collection, bus passes, and on-ground officials.

BMTC conductors told TNIE that the rush was seen during peak hours ever since schools reopened in August. What made the situation worse for one section was the heavy increase in traffic and road work being carried out in the city, which led to a delay in the arrival of buses. This meant that passengers who were to travel in three different buses ended up taking the first bus that arrived, they said.

In a statement, the corporation stated that the government eased restrictions, and academic sessions have started for classes six and above, including degree and post-graduation. Schools from classes six to 12 began in full capacity from October 1. An official told TNIE that there are plans to increase the number of air-conditioned buses which currently totals 43 buses.

Meanwhile, a conductor said that they were asked to be lenient to students should they show their school fee receipt or ID card, or old pass.

Smart City works do not mean improving walking space and lighting, it also includes heritage and greenery of the park

Stakeholder present at the meeting

FACING threats from the Central government of withdrawal of funds allocated for improving Cubbon Park under the Smart City Mission, officials have sprung into action. At a meeting between experts and horticulture department officials on Friday, engineers were directed to conduct a hydrological study of the city's prime lung space, Cubbon Park, and submit a report within a month.

A N Yellappa Reddy, retired forest department official and head of the expert committee for the horticulture department, who chaired the meeting, told TNIE that Smart City works will impact the lung space, so there's a need for a hydrological study. "This study will help improve the groundwater table, assist in creating wetlands in low-lying areas, improve flora and fauna and aquatic life in the park. Smart City works must include watershed management of the 200-acre landscape. Wetlands play a major role in the eco-system and should be incorporated," he said.

Experts pointed out that the delay in implementing the works was due to frequent change in engineers, Covid-19 outbreak and lack of interest.

The problems also arose as stakeholders were not involved in the implementation of the work.

City aims to be free of traffic, pollution, waste

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

As a part of the 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav' and smart city initiative, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and Bengaluru Smart City Limited, are working on promoting freedom from traffic, pollution and waste in Bengaluru with the help of technology.

While the two agencies are showcasing the benefits of the integrated command and control centre (ICCC) as a major project before the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs, they have now taken the challenge to address the three issues of the city.

Speaking at the launch of the three-day Mahostav on Friday, BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said, live demonstration of three themes enabled by technology under the ICCC was done. Apart from this, 75 hours of urban transformation implementation events are being held which include slow street on Shanthinagar Main Road project, improvement at Akkithimmanahalli and Ayyappa Garden Anaganwadis, and placemaking at KR Market Junction and Bal Bhavan.

In Shanthinagar, to provide a better walking experience to caregivers and toddlers, there are plans to incorporate various measures to ensure safe access to early childhood amenities. "Work is also being undertaken to improve the Anaganwadis by upgrading the infrastructure especially toilets and play areas. Work on improving the traffic junctions is also being given priority," Gupta added.

AFTER GOING PEDESTRIAN

Air quality improves on Church St, but combustion gases high

ENS @Bengaluru

ALTHOUGH pedestrianisation of Church Street has shown a drop in pollution levels, and improved the air quality index, experts point out that a check be done on sources of combustible pollutants like nitrous oxide.

Anumita Roychowdhary, Executive Director, Research and Advocacy at the Centre for Science and Environment on Friday, said particulate matter (PM10) is not excessive, but PM2.5 is showing an increase. While the impact of dust is low, the effect of combustion sources is high. She said there's a need to study the sources and their impact on pedestrians. "There is also a need for data on gaseous impact," she added. The experts, who participated in the international webinar on 'Church Street First -- Impact Assessment of Pedestrianising an Urban Street in terms of Quality of Life', stated that to ensure better health and improve air quality, pedestrianising of one street and that too on weekends, will not help.

During the webinar, three reports on air quality index, pedestrianisation level of service analysis, and boarding and alighting at public transit stations, were also released.

Experts also pointed that pollution continues to be high because of traffic on MG Road, Brigade Road, Museum Road and St Marks Road.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

02nd October : As we find out more and more about the possibility of life on distant planets in other solar systems, my thought turns to what sort of astrology they will have, if any. Of course, in a sense it doesn't matter. Cosmic truth will always find a way to communicate with us, whatever the stars say, perhaps in ways we never expected.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You will probably find yourself pulled in two directions, thinking one thing, but doing another. To be perfectly honest there is no reason why you shouldn't do a complete U-turn and change horses in midstream. All you have to do is keep other people informed.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Money will intrude on most areas of your life, and it's not a bad time at all for indulging in a spot of extravagance. However, you have a chance to radically re-arrange your home and family affairs, even if only in a small but deeply satisfying way.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
You have to remember that it is always best to talk about your feelings, difficult as this may be. It's no use covering your emotions with your thoughts, as so many of you do so much of the time. Sometimes, the only thing that will do is raw passion and honesty.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
There'll almost certainly be a great deal to do behind the scenes. Some of you will be involved in charitable activities, while for others it will be simply a matter of having to get on with the job as quickly and quietly as possible. Decide which side you're on and then go for it!

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
Mars' combination with the Moon could give you a massive shot of energy later on. It's therefore difficult to make plans in advance, for you might not know what you want to do until you're doing it! Still, it can be nice to sense that the future is wide open.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may make a real song and dance if you're not getting what you want. This is one of those times in your life when your desires should be met, and surrounding individuals should give in to you for a change! At least that's the theory. The trouble is that other people are just so unpredictable.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's a day of rapid changes, from the possibility of fruitful discussions and interesting news around mid-morning, through emotional tension midday, to practical work early afternoon, and a possible burst of mystery or excitement late in the evening. Enjoy!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There's no question that this is the most important moment to concentrate on business matters. If, by any chance, you can bring increased excitement to a flagging relationship, make your plans around noon. And then all you have to do is make sure the cash situation is on your side.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The Moon's emotional movements may confront you with the consequences of your actions. Some people may return from your past, while others will mysteriously appear as if they were reading your mind. Be open to whatever happens, and bear in mind that even the most trivial activities might have a purpose.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You could be busier than usual, perhaps because, typically, you have taken on too much. Even if you have double-booked yourself or made completely contradictory commitments, you should be able to pull through. You might even discover something valuable about yourself along the way.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
It's time for a little creativity. This doesn't mean that you have to be a great artist, but that whatever you do should be based on your own personal skills, talents and interests, rather than tagging along with friends and partners. But it's OK to let them do their thing, while you do yours.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Mars' alignment with the very base of your chart indicates a degree of friction, and you have a simple choice: to stay where you are or to move on. Putting your decision into action, of course, is a different matter! Perhaps that's why you need to come clean and solicit the best advice.

CM holds talks, Panchamasali stir off for now

Meets community leaders at home office, convinces them that issue will be taken up after panel submits report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE BJP government in the state has managed to buy itself some time on the issue of reservation for the Panchamasali-Lingayat community under the backward 2A category. The community leaders, who were threatening to renew their agitation, have relented for the time being after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai spoke to them at length on Friday.

The CM had invited Lingayat Panchamasali Peetha pontiff Jaya Mrutunjaya Swami, Lingayat Panchamasali Mahasabha president Vijayanand Kashappanavar and other community leaders to his home office 'Krishna' on Friday morning for a detailed discussion where PWD minister C C Patil, also a Panchamasali leader, was also present.

Asked about the government's strategy, Bommai said, "We will start this process as soon as possible. The power to accord reservation has been given to the states. We will have to take it up after the Backward Classes commission submits its report."

Speaking at the meeting, C C Patil who told the community leaders that he was speaking responsibly as a minister, said, "The government is concerned about providing reservation to the community. As soon as the Backward Classes Commission comes up with its report, the government will start the process. The CM himself has assured that it will be done. We need to have confidence."

Basavaraj Bommai, CM

Speaking to TNIE Vijayanand Kashappanavar said, "So far, no chief minister had invited us to his Home Office to hear out our demand at length, which Bommai has done. We will wait for three months as they have suggested."

The Lingayat Panchamasalis are already under the reserved 3B category where 5 per cent reservation is given. They are seeking reservation under the backward 2A category where the reservation is 15 per cent.

The community leaders and members had in February marched from Kudala Sangama in Bagalkot district to Bengaluru to press for their demand. At the Palace Grounds rally, attended by lakhs of supporters, they had threatened to start a hunger strike. The then Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa had then sought time and referred the issue to the Karnataka Backward Classes Commission.

Bommai to declare Vijayanagara as 31st district today

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR
@Hosapete

KARNATAKA'S 31st district of Vijayanagara will be officially unveiled by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on October 2 (Gandhi Jayanti). In February, the BJP government, led by B S Yediyurappa, had issued a notification on the creation of Vijayanagara — named after the capital of the erstwhile Vijayanagar empire. The new district has been carved out of iron ore-rich Ballari district under the Karnataka Land Revenue Act, 1964.

While there is concern over allocation of funds for various projects, the new district will get Rs 400 crore for creating necessary infrastructure. Bommai will announce the Rs 400 crore grant, part of which will come from the District Mineral Foundation Funds and the State Government coffers to take up various projects including construction of an administrative building which will house the offices of the district deputy commissioner, superintendent of police and the zilla panchayat CEO at Hosapete.

"Also, Rs 40 crore for a 60-bed children's hospital, Rs 30 crore for redevelopment of roads and Rs 105 crore for a flyover on Hampi Road will also be announced," said newly appointed Deputy Commissioner Anirudh Sravan P.

Preparations are on in full swing at the Hosapete Municipal Grounds where a two-day event has been planned, starting Saturday. A huge pandal has been erected to accommodate 50,000 people. Apart from Bommai, a host of politicians, including Yediyurappa, will be present.

Tourism Minister Anand Singh, who led the campaign for bifurcation of Ballari district, is monitoring the preparations. "It is a two-decade-old dream of the people of the region. To make the event memorable, a host of cultural events have been planned. Religious leaders belonging to all communities will be present on the occasion," Singh said. A huge procession will be taken out from Shanbhag Circle to the venue.

Apart from Anirudh Sravan, the State Government has appointed Arun K as Superintendent of Police and G Gayetri as the ZP CEO. The formal declaration of the new district was put off several times over the last seven months owing to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Preparations are on in full swing at Hosapete Municipal Grounds where CM Basavaraj Bommai will inaugurate Vijayanagara district on Saturday

Clear dues in 2 days, sugar factories told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE State Government has directed the sugar factories to clear pending bills of farmers in the next two days (by October 3), failing which action will be initiated against them.

Directives to the factories were issued after Minister of Sugarcane Development and Sugar Shankar Patil Munenakoppa chaired a meeting with senior officials of the department and representatives of sugar factories in Bengaluru on Friday.

According to a statement issued by the department, Basaveshwara Sugars Ltd, Vijayapura district (₹2,211 lakh), Nirani Sugars Ltd, Mudhol (₹567 lakh) Someshwara SSK Ltd (₹68 lakh) and Saipriya Sugars Ltd, Bagalkot (₹415 lakh) are among the seven factories that are yet to clear the bills for 2020-21 crushing season.

The minister said that the State Government is committed to protecting the sugar industry, but its priority is to protect the interests of farmers.

BJP banks big on BSY to capture Sindagi, Hanagal

BS Yediyurappa campaigning for BJP candidates in Hanagal and Sindagi, seats dominated by Lingayats, will be vital for the party's victory | FILE PHOTO

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

THE BJP hopes to ride on former chief minister B S Yediyurappa's popularity to win the October 30 bypolls to Sindagi and Hanagal Assembly constituencies. Many in the Karnataka BJP are hoping that the 78-year-old Lingayat strongman's presence during the campaigning will help the party garner votes in the two seats dominated by the community. Even the aspirants are knocking on Yediyurappa's doors urging him to campaign. The BJP is making all efforts to retain Hanagal and win Sindagi. The state leaders, during the recent core committee meeting in Davanagere, had stressed on the need to win both the seats, as a failure to do so will send out a wrong message with less than 18 months to go for the 2023 Assembly polls.

Winning Hanagal in Haveri district, which is Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's home district, will be a matter of prestige for him. Bommai, along with his cabinet colleagues, will campaign once the party candidate is announced. The BJP is likely to field Ramesh Bhusanur from Sindagi, who lost in 2018 to M C Managuli of JDS, and Revati Udasi (wife of Haveri-Gadag MP Shivakumar Udasi and daughter-in-law of the late C M Udasi) from Hanagal. A senior BJP leader said that Yediyurappa not campaigning will send out a wrong message, and add fuel to the Opposition's fire against the BJP. "Yediyurappa might have stepped down as the CM... but he is inevitable for the party. Even if he makes a speech for just 10 minutes, it will help the party," the leader added. According to sources, Bhusanur, the party's frontrunner in Sindagi, met Yediyurappa urging him to campaign.

N Ravikumar, BJP state general secretary, said they will fight the bypolls under the collective leadership of Yediyurappa, Bommai and BJP state chief Nalin Kumar Kateel. Meanwhile, the BJP state core committee meeting, to be held in Benglauru on Sunday, is expected to give a clear roadmap for the party leaders and workers to face the bypolls.

The Bharatiya Janata Party might spring a surprise by fielding a grassroots worker in the October 30 bypolls to Sindagi assembly constituency. The bypoll was necessitated following the demise of Janata Dal Secular MLA MC Managuli.

Though two-time MLA Ramesh Bhusanur is considered to be one of the frontrunners and has been demanding that the BJP field him, the party high command is in search of a new face for the bypoll, said party sources. Bhusanur lost the 2018 Assembly election by a small margin.

"The party is not just looking for a candidate for the bypoll but also for the 2023 Assembly election. The high command, aiming to strengthen the party at grassroots in Sindagi, is working on fielding a new face... mostly a grassroots worker," said a BJP source.

Currently, there are eight aspirants in the BJP, including Bhusanur, Karnataka State Lime Development Board president Ashok Allapuri and former corporator Ravindra Loni.

"I have been working for the party for the past three decades without any expectations. The party high command, recognising my contribution, appointed me as chairman of the lime board. Now, it's my right to ask for a ticket. BJP has to reward me for my service. However, I will abide by the party's decision," Allapur told The New Indian Express.

Meanwhile, Bhusanur is confident of getting the ticket for the fourth successive time. "I have met the party high command, including the chief minister. They have assured that I will be fielded as I lost by a thin margin in 2018. Even if the party doesn't field me, I will not contest as an Independent," Bhusanur added.

"The party has collected the ground report. We so far do not know who our candidate will be. The decision might be a surprising one... deliberations are yet to start. It will be discussed at the core committee meeting on Sunday," MLC Arun Shahpur told The New Indian Express.

"We have sent a list of eight names to the high command. In that, only Ramesh Bhusanur is an old face. The candidate for Sindagi segment will be announced in a day or two," said R S Patil Kuchabal, BJP district president.

JDS fields Naziya Shakeel from Sindagi

BENGALURU: JDS on Friday announced party worker Naziya Shakeel Ahmed Angadi (32) as its candidate for the Sindagi bypoll. Former CM and party leader HD Kumaraswamy said she has been working in JDS actively for many years. Naziya is a MA BEd graduate and is actively engaged in social work in the constituency. The party has already announced Niyaz Shaikh as its candidate from Hanagal segment.

STATE TO DOUBLE GRANTS FOR OLD AGE HOMES

BENGALURU: The Karnataka government will be increasing grants to Rs 15 lakh to maintain old age homes. At present, the government is giving Rs 8 lakh, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said here on Friday. Speaking at World Senior Citizen Day, Bommai said the Union Government has fixed Rs 25 lakh per old age home for yearly maintenance, including Rs 8 lakh from State Government grants. Bommai gave his assurance that the government is committed to help senior citizens live with dignity and confidence. "The government will be your support,''he said. The CM also launched a senior citizen helpline on the occasion.

On revival path, JDS battles exodus of leaders

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

AT a time when the JDS is making all efforts at revival, starting with a four-day Janata Parva 1.0 workshop, it seems to be besieged with attrition of leaders from its fold. But the party leadership is confident that it will fare well with new leaders. Amid buzz of some party MLAs from Tumakuru, Kolar and Mysuru planning to switch sides, two of its sitting Council members may be moving out ahead of the polls to 25 Legislative Council seats from local bodies, which will be held in the first week of January.

MLC Sandesh Nagaraj told TNIE, "I will not be contesting on a JDS ticket." Indications are that he may join the BJP. Another JDS MLC, BEML Kantharaj, said, "I wanted to contest for the Assembly and asked to be fielded from Turuvekere, but the party went with M T Krishnappa.'' He is likely to join the Congress sometime soon.

Of the two other JDS MLCs elected from the local bodies constituency, there are questions over the continuance of C R Manohar, one of the richest Council members, as he is said to be inaccessible even to the party leadership. The other member, Appaji Gowda, however, said, "I am not going anywhere, I will remain in the JDS.'' Asked if he will contest the next election, he said,"I will do whatever the high command directs me to do. If they want me to contest, I surely will.''

Reacting to the turn of events, former CM and JDS leader H D Kumaraswamy told TNIE that the party has alternative candidates ready. "As regards, Sandesh Nagaraj, there is nothing new, I have known this for years. He is old. The last time, I remember the party accommodated him despite all problems and some health issues, but he did not remain with us. We have accommodated him for two terms.''

As regards BEML Kantharaj, Kumaraswamy said, "The party is not concerned. We are preparing for the upcoming Council polls. We will do well and win 5-6 seats from Mysuru, Mandya, Kolar, Tumakuru, Hassan and even Bengaluru Rural where the JDs is strong.'' Appaji Gowda too concurred saying, "JDS will win at least 5-6 seats even if the two MLCs leave the party. JDS has a strong presence in most of the Assembly seats in these areas. In the last election, there was some problem which was why we won only four seats."

At 4-day party workshop, Gen Next takes the stage

Nikhil Kumaraswamy

Prajwal Revanna

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

IF the JDS' four-day long workshop for the ranks is any indication, particularly the younger crop, the party leadership is gradually trying to pass on the baton to the first family's next generation of leaders ahead of 2023 assembly polls.

Cousins Nikhil Kumaraswamy and Hassan Lok Sabha member Prajwal Revanna shared the dais and vowed to work closely in organising the party across the state after they offer prayers to Goddess Chamundeshwari in Mysuru soon.

JDS supremo H D Deve Gowda has seemingly been successful in uniting his grandchildren amid speculation of a rift within the family. "Both Prajwal and Nikhil are in demand in parts of North Karnataka and they will campaign for the bypolls to Hanagal and Sindagi constituencies slated to be held on October 30," informed MLC K A Thippeswamy.

Another party source pointed out that Prajwal had already been in touch with some of the constituents when he recently travelled to organise the party in Sindhanur. "In the Old Mysuru region, Prajwal may find acceptance within the Vokkaliga community as he is straightforward," remarked a JD(S) leader.

For the regional party, it has become imperative to promote the duo as its youth icons, specially since younger leaders in other parties are already in the spotlight. If the party manages to win 25 per cent of the seats, as the duo have suggested, the chances of them taking over the reins cannot be ruled out.

Both Prajwal and Nikhil are in demand in parts of North Karnataka and they will campaign for the bypolls to Hanagal and Sindagi

HISTORIC PAST

Two freedom fighters brought Gandhi to Davanagere in 1934

G SUBHASH CHANDRA
@ Davanagere

MAHATMA Gandhi had no plans to visit Davanagere, during his tour of India back in 1934. It was the determination of two freedom fighters, who answered Gandhiji's questions and fulfilled his conditions, that drew him here.

Today, 87 years later, the central Karnataka city has much to cheer, as Davanagere is the only city in undivided Chitradurga district where the Father of the Nation interacted with the 'Harijana' at Harijan Colony, now called Gandhi Nagar. He had laid the foundation stone for the Adi Karnataka and Adi Dravida Hostel on PJ Extension.

On the occasion of the 153rd birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, the people here recall that two staunch freedom fighters had brought Gandhiji to Davanagere's doorsteps.

Giving a detailed account of Mahatma Gandhi's visit to Davanagere, senior photographer and historian HB Manjunath said, "It was the year 1934, Kasala Sreenivasa Shetty and Panduranga Shiroor planned to invite Mahatma Gandhi, who was on a tour of India, to Davanagere, and wrote a letter requesting him to come to Davanagere'.

Gandhi Smaraka Mandir in Davanagere

Gandhi, who responded to the letter, posted three questions to the duo: Were they participating in the freedom movement? Were they wearing swadeshi clothes? Was he involved with the 'Harijana'? Shetty and Shiroor responded in the affirmative, and said they were part of the freedom struggle and were also motivating others to join the movement in big numbers.

They also told him that they were fitted out in swadeshi clothes, and regularly had breakfast with Harijans at their home, soon after completing the Prabhatperi (marchpast) everyday.

Impressed, Gandhi sent another set of conditions, requesting the duo to get a permanent structure for setting up a school or hostel, to support the educational needs of Harijans, visit a Harijan colony and also get Harijan associates during his stay in Davanagere, which were arranged by Kasala Sreenivasa Shetty, he added.

"On March 2, 1934, Gandhiji arrived in Davanagere, and Channagiri Rangappa, father-in-law of former minister Nagamma Keshavamurthy, drove Gandhiji from the railway station to the programme, and then to Gandhi Nagar, which was earlier called Harijan Colony. Gandhi laid the foundation stone for the Harijan hostel, now called 'Gandhi Smaraka Mandir'," he said.

Rangappa, then vice-president of Davanagere Town Panchayat, was instrumental in allocating land for construction of the Harijan hostel in Davanagere city, he recollects.

Bengaluru struggles to bring down active cases, experts blame data

Daily discharges not being reported on time also contribute to increase in active caseload

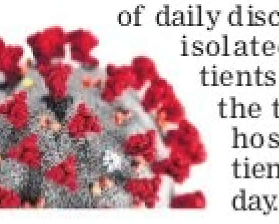
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WHILE Karnataka has fared fairly well in bringing down Covid-19 cases across the state, Bengaluru seems to be struggling with the number of daily discharges frequently falling below the number of cases added, while active cases are steadily rising.

Between September 20 and September 30, the daily discharge of patients in Bengaluru has been on the decline. On September 20, the number of Covid patients discharged in a single day was 362, while on September 30, the number fell to 172. Correspondingly, daily cases reported rose from 213 on September 20 to 291 on September 30, while through this period, the number of cases added daily was reported to be higher than those discharged.

Accordingly, the recovery rate — the percentage of total number of discharged patients to the total number of infected cases — has been lately struggling to climb over 98.09%.

Bengaluru took 31 days for its recovery rate to climb from 86.51% on June 1 to 96.78% on July 2. But even after three months, the recovery rate is hovering around 98%. It was 98.09% on Friday, just as it was on August 24, after which it increased to the highest recovery rate of 98.13% on September 7, before sliding again to 98.09%. Active cases rose from 7,318 on September 20 to 7,627 on Friday. The city saw the biggest percentage drop of 23.3% in active cases on July 1, but since August-end, on most days Bengaluru has been seeing a rise in active cases, 2.69% being the highest, as reported on September 15.



However, BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) Randeep D said the increase in active cases is mainly due to daily discharges not being reported on time. "To keep track of the number of daily discharges, home-isolated Covid patients are called on the tenth day, and hospitalised patients on the 14th day. Some patients are not available on call, which is resulting in a pile-up of discharges not reflecting on the same day. We are following up and adding discharges later," he said.

Owing to several holidays in September, the samples processed by testing labs also piled up. "The rise in active Covid cases is not due to spread of the infection. Although samples are taken on all days, not many samples are tested on holidays, as labs are closed for half a day or the whole day. On subsequent days, these pile up and get reported as new cases," said Dr C Nagaraj, Director, Rajiv Gandhi Institute of Chest Diseases, adding that this matter was discussed at one of the Technical Advisory Committee meetings.

VAXXED BUT IN ICU: DOCTORS SAY COMORBIDITIES TO BLAME

> The number of fully vaccinated people admitted in ICUs is very small, compared to the crores of vaccinated individuals so far. Getting both doses of vaccine does bring down the severity and provides protection from death
>
> Dr Giridhara Babu, epidemiologist, TAC member

IFFATH FATHIMA @ Bengaluru

A staggering 75% of people who are unvaccinated, or are vaccinated with one dose, have landed up in High Dependency Units (HDU) and 78.5% in the Intensive Care Units of hospitals over the past 14 days, as per data from the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike.

Among 57 admissions in the HDU, 43 (75%) are unvaccinated or partially vaccinated. Among the 51 ICU admissions, 48 (78.5%) are unvaccinated or partially vaccinated.

BBMP officials say the message is straight — those who are not vaccinated tend to get more severely infected. "One needs to get vaccinated to avoid reaching the severe stage. The idea is to vaccinate the entire population. We have been carrying out awareness drives and are even door-to-door vaccination. We are reaching out to people in markets and slum areas," said Randeep D, Special Commissioner (Health), BBMP.

While it is assumed that unvaccinated individuals do not land in HDUs and ICUs, some individuals who were "fully vaccinated" were also admitted in ICUs and HDUs. Eleven fully vaccinated individuals— comprising 21.5% of the 51 individuals— were admitted in the ICU, while out of 57 patients in HDU, 14 (25%) are fully vaccinated.

However, experts point out that the small number of admissions of fully vaccinated individuals is not a sign of worry, what one needs to focus on is to get both shots on time and not delay getting vaccinated.

Dr Anoop Amarnath, member, state's Critical Care Support Team and Head, Scientific Board and Chairman-Geriatric Medicine, Manipal Hospitals, said, "The ones who got both doses are usually the ones with multiple or severe comorbid illnessesThe time duration between the second side of vaccination and hospitalisation is also something that needs to be looked into— as optimum protection is gained about 2 to 3 weeks past the second dose."

Randeep said they are checking on the age and comorbidities of the fully vaccinated, and the time of their infection from the second dose. "We are analysing this to find the cause. So far, there have been no deaths among the double-vaccinated."

SPINAL ATROPHY

HC: Examine infant with rare disorder

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has directed the guardians of an 18-month-old to take him to the Indira Gandhi Institute of Child Health for medical examination. The boy has been suffering from spinal muscular atrophy, a rare fatal genetic disorder. The boy's father had already approached the office of the CM and PM for financial assistance of about ₹7-8 crore. Over ₹8 crore was mobilised through crowd-funding for the purchase of a life-saving drug, 'Zolgensma'.

Passing the order on the petition filed by Janish, represented by his father N Naveen Kumar, Justice Krishna S Dixit directed Dr G N Sanjeev, Associate Professor of the Institute, to examine the infant prima facie and refer him to an expert committee. The court also permitted the petitioner's guardians to contact Dr Sanjeev either through e-mail or mobile phone or otherwise.

"If something happens to the child because of arguable culpability qua the respondents concerned of the doctors, they should be held personally liable," the court said while adjourning further hearing to October 7.

The counsel for the Centre submitted that the infant can be taken to the Centre for Human Genetics at the Indira Gandhi Institute of Child Health. He said the application of Janish for financial assistance was received on February 15. However, a letter was issued for a fresh medical certificate from the government hospital indicating the future cost of treatment and date of admission to process the case further.

HC upholds amendment to Co-op Act

But rules it is to be effective for elections after disposal of petitions challenging amendment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has ruled that the 97th amendment to the Karnataka Cooperative Societies Act, 1959, in the Constitution of India on the eligibility of members of cooperative institutions for voting should be effective after disposal of petitions challenging the amendment.

Justice PS Dinesh Kumar passed the order, dismissing a batch of petitions filed by Venkategowda from Mandya district and several others questioning Section 20(2)(a-iv) and (a-v) of the Act.

The court, however, clarified that the prayer made by the petitioners merits consideration as pursuant to interim orders, members of the societies have participated in the elections and many have won. If the acts of members are not saved, it will lead to a chaotic situation. It is just and appropriate to accept the prayer made by the petitioners. Amended provisions should be effective for elections to be held after the disposal of these petitions, the court added.

It noted that the Governor gave his assent to the Act in 2013, but it was not enforced till 2018. Thereafter, several writ petitions have been filed in the high court which has permitted the members to vote and participate in elections through interim orders.

According to the amendment, members should not have the right to vote if he or she or a representative or a delegate has failed to attend three general meetings of the cooperative institutions out of the last five. A member or a representative who has failed to utilise such minimum service or facilities in a cooperative year as may be specified in the by-laws for three consecutive cooperative years should also not be eligible for voting.

Allotment of quarters by KHB null and void: Court

Declaring the allotment and transfer of quarters to 10 private individuals by the Karnataka Housing Board (KHB) in Shivamogga, done without following due process of law, as null and void, the Karnataka High Court imposed a cost of Rs 1 lakh on the KHB, payable to the Karnataka State Legal Services Authority. A division bench directed Vinoda Bai and nine others from Hosanagara town in Shivamogga district, to hand over the vacant possession of quarters in question, and vacate the premises within sixty days. If they fail to do so, the KHB should evict them.

Woman files plaint against hubby, in-laws

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A 29-year-old woman has filed a complaint against her husband and in-laws, accusing them of domestic violence and sexual harassment. She also claimed that she was forced to undergo a virginity test.

The woman, a resident of South Bengaluru, who used to work with an IT company, was married to Deepak, a private company employee and a resident of Jnanabharathi, in August last year.

In her complaint with the Hanumanthanagar police, she alleged that she was subjected to a virginity test against her wishes by her husband and his paternal aunt Hema Vijaykumar soon after the wedding. While there was consistent demand to bring dowry, Deepak also supported his father to sexually harass her, she alleged.

"My father-in-law was forcing me to spend time with him in private. When I complained about this to my husband, he said not only his father, I should also cooperate with his friend Satish," the woman stated.

Based on the complaint, the police booked Deepak, his father Kempanarasimhaiah, brother Rakshak, sister Anitha, and paternal aunt Hema Vijaykumar on Tuesday. Following this, the accused have gone absconding.

Boy dies after falling from 14th-floor terrace

Bengaluru: An 11-year-old boy died after he fell from the terrace of his apartment in Hosakerehalli on Thursday afternoon. The police are investigating whether it was an accident or a suicide. Deceased Gagan, a Class 5 student, was the only child of Pradeep, a software engineer. The family stayed on the 14th floor of Sobha Valley View apartment. Rajarajeshwari Nagar police said Gagan was alone at home as his parents had gone shopping. When they returned, they did not find him in the flat. When Pradeep went in search, he found the body on the terrace of the clubhouse, which had five floors. ENS

WOMAN HANGS SELF WITH TWO CHILDREN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

UPSET over the death of her husband, a woman murdered her six-year-old daughter and ended her life along with her 15-year-old son. The incident took place in Madanayakanahalli police station limits on the outskirts of the city on Friday evening. The deceased are Vasantha (40), Yashwant, and Nishchita. The family lived in Prakruthi Layout in Bengaluru North taluk.

Police said the incident came to light on Friday evening. While the bodies of the mother and daughter were found hanging from the ceiling fan in a room, Yashwant's body was found hanging in another room.

"Preliminary probe revealed that Vasantha was depressed after her husband, a BMTC driver, died due to Covid-19 last year," the Madanayakanahalli police said.

Three held for abetting suicide of 5 kin

Police on Friday arrested three people on charges of abetting suicide over the death of five members of their family in Byadarahalli.

On September 17, Bharathi (54), her daughters Sinchana Kumari (32) and Sindhurani (29), son Madhusagar (25) and Sindhurani's nine-month-old son were found dead in their house at Vinayaka Layout in Andhrahalli.

Bharathi's husband Shankar, a journalist, Sindhurani's husband Srikanth and Sinchana's husband Praveen have been arrested based on three suicide notes left by the deceased persons, sources said.

While all the four adults had held Shankar responsible, Sindhurani had also mentioned her husband's name, accusing him of harassing her. The police had seized three death notes, three laptops, five mobile phones, and a pen drive.

"The family members were upset over Shankar's extramarital affairs and that he was indifferent to them. They had collected the messages he had sent to other women and saved them in the laptop. Their claims in the death notes and the material available on digital devices were corroborated," the police added.

TN to 'capture or kill' man-eating tiger

Decision after recovering man's partially-eaten body; feline is 13 years old with failing health

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @Chennai

TAMIL Nadu Chief Wildlife Warden, Shekhar Kumar Niraj, on Friday issued a hunting order to field teams in Gudalur and Mudumalai Tiger Reserve (MTR) to either capture or kill a problematic tiger, known as 'MDT 23', that has allegedly killed four people and a dozen cattle till date. According to sources, the tiger is a 13-year-old male with failing health.

The decision came after a partially-eaten body of an 82-year-old tribal man identified as M Basavan was discovered from the bushes by the people from Singara village in Gudalur. Basavan is thought to be the tiger's latest victim.

The situation at Masinagudi grew tenser following the discovery of the body, with locals staging a road roko along the Masinagudi-Udhagamandalam stretch, demanding the immediate termination of the big cat. They refused to allow police to take the victim's body for postmortem.

The hunting order was issued under Section 11 (1) (a) of the Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972, as the said tiger has been preying on livestock since July and killing people off late. "Clearly the tiger has become dangerous to human life in the area. Our endeavour would still be to capture the big cat. Shoot to kill will be the last option," Niraj told TNIE.

Mar 20, 2016: Special Task Force personnel kill a male tiger at Devashola in Nilgiris. The tiger had killed an estate worker from Jharkhand

Forest Minister K Ramachandran told reporters at Coonoor teams from Tamil Nadu and Kerala as well as Special Task Force personnel will carry out the operation.

As per the official order, Conservator of Forests and Field Director, Mudumalai Tiger Reserve (MTR), Udhagamandalam, is authorised to take immediate action to hunt the problematic tiger. "The entire operation shall be photographed and video recorded and a detailed report should be submitted soon after completion of the operation," the hunt order reads.

The tiger has eluded the department's efforts and continued to prey on livestock.

'Eco-implications of land-use change need to be studied'

The solar park facility in Pavagada in Tumakuru

WELL-KNOWN environmentalist, soil scientist and former IFS officer AN Yellappa Reddy said the land which has now been covered by solar panels is next to the human habitat. "When the land has vegetation and the surface is green, water gets absorbed and oxygen flows naturally. Also, farming activity keeps the soil alive," he added.

But with solar panels replacing vegetation, the area has become hotter. "The temperature will only increase further in coming years, making it impossible for villagers to live near solar panels. They may have to vacate their villages," he warned.

He said that the lower albedo effect, which means more radiation from the sun getting absorbed by the earth, makes temperatures rise. Especially in Pavagada, which is known for its rocky hills, this effect is more apparent. If there is vegetation, even shrubs, the temperature goes down.

Other climate and soil experts suggested that the long-term impact of cutting off sunlight and rain from the land on which solar parks stand needs to be studied before more such parks are commissioned.

Prof John Quinton from Lancaster Environment Centre Soil Science told The New Indian Express, "There has been a large increase in solar parks around the world, which has led to a significant change in land use. There is a huge pressure, given the current increasing demand, on agricultural land to grow biofuels and to convert it into solar energy parks. The concern is that the land may not be able to cope with these changes, which need to be studied to understand their impact on soil and climate."

Agreeing that the temperature is bound to increase to some extent because of the dark colour of solar panels, Prof Govindasamy Bala of the Centre for Atmospheric and Oceanic Sciences, IISc, said that ecological implications of land-use change caused by solar parks have not been studied properly. There is a need to compile observations for some more years and compare them with the data from previous years, he said.

Prof Rajegowda, an agrometeorologist and former registrar of the University of Agriculture Sciences, said that Pavagada receives low rainfall, but despite that farmers used to grow good quantities of groundnut, horse gram and green gram.

There have been studies globally that show that the soil under the solar panels is cooler by 5.2 degrees Celsius as compared to patches exposed to the sun. This is likely to affect many important plant and soil processes, including productivity and decomposition, he said.

More importantly, the government has to think of an alternative source of livelihood for villagers, whose land has been taken away. "The government can hold orientation courses to help them put some value addition to crops grown in surrounding areas that will help them get jobs and income," he suggested.

While India is racing to install solar farms to wean itself away from carbon-based energy, the industry is yet to develop technologies to tackle its own environmentally hazardous material, like toxic metals, oil, fibreglass and others.

Kambala training to be over on Oct 10

PONTIFF of Murugha Mutt Dr Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru announced on Friday that classical musician Pandit Rajeev Taranath and space scientist Dr K Kasturirangan will receive the prestigious Basavashree award on October 17 at the Anubhava Mantapa, for the year 2019 and 2020 respectively.

The seer, on the occasion of Basava Jayanti celebrations, said that the team constituted by the mutt made the selection.

First performance at the age of nine

Born in Bengaluru on October 17, 1932, Rajeev Taranath received his initial vocal training from his father Pandit Taranath. He first performed in front of the public when he was just a nine-year-old and was singing for All India Radio even before he turned 20.

An ardent classical musician, Rajeev received training in Sarod from Ustad Ali Akbar Khan, Pandit Ravishankar, Nikhil Banerjee, Aashish Khan and Annapoornadevi. He also worked as the head of the Indian music programme at the World Music Department of the California Institute of the Arts from 1995 to 2005 and bagged several awards including the Padmashree.

Kasturirangan made India a major space power

Dr K Kasturirangan, who worked as the Chairman of ISRO and space commission is credited to launching various satellites and was instrumental in making India a major in space power. He also worked as chairman of The Karnataka Knowledge Commission. He also has several awards to his name.

The award honours people for services to society in their fields by following the principles of Lord Basaveshwar.

'No provision for maternity leave after adoption'

"I am eager to see how this progresses and truly hope that the law changes soon. I am hoping there is some answer by the (Union) government and the law is made equal for both, adoptive and biological mothers," Hamsaanandini said.

Hamsaanandini has first-hand experienced the pain of leaving the child alone in a new environment when both mother and child were trying to adjust to new situations.

Hamsaanandini said the process of adoption requires a lot of legal clearances and paperwork to ensure that the child is "legally free for adoption" by the Child Welfare Committee under the JJ Act, and cannot be completed in mere three months. There is no provision for maternity leave at all for a mother adopting an orphaned, abandoned or surrendered child above the age of three months.

She stated in her petition that such a law will lead to parents preferring to adopt newborn children as against older children.

While several adoptive mothers signed her change.org petition, Shilpa Das, another such parent who is a marketing executive, found it challenging to ensure that her two-year-old daughter settled down. She said, "I was told that extra leaves are given to biological mothers for the physical recovery after giving birth and then for the potential emotional inability to return to work. The time should not really be about the physical and emotional recovery of the parent, it should also be about the physical and emotional needs of the child."

College girl killed by classmate on campus for rejecting proposal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kottayam

A third-year degree student at the St Thomas College in Pala was killed on the campus by her classmate allegedly for rejecting his love proposal on Friday. The deceased was identified as Nithinamol of Kalappurakkal house at Thalayolaparamb near Vaikom. The Pala police took into custody the suspect, Abhishek Baiju (21), a resident of Puthenpurayil house at Uppaniyil near Koothattukulam.

According to police, the incident took place around 11.15 am. Abhishek killed Nithinamol by slitting her throat with a penknife. Nithinamol and Abhishek, both third-year B Voc Food Processing Technology students, came to the campus to attend their final-year examinations. As per the statements of eyewitnesses, both were talking to each other near the college ground after examinations got over. However, soon their conversation snowballed into an altercation and Abhishek suddenly pulled down Nithinamol and slit her throat, added eyewitnesses.

Though she was rushed to a nearby hospital by college staff, hospital authorities said she was dead on arrival. Their classmates said Abhishek and Nithinamol were considered very good friends and there was no rumour of them being a couple. As per the reports available, Abhishek attacked her after she turned down his love appeal.

Abhishek, who allegedly confessed to the crime, told police he did not intend to kill her. According to college Principal Dr James John Mangalath, they were final-year degree students and came to the campus after a long period of online classes to attend their final-semester examination.

'Promoting desi cow breeds must for TTD'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Tirumala

BESIDES safeguarding temple rituals, culture, heritage, traditions and vedic knowledge, protecting and promoting desi cow breeds is also one of the important aspects of Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) as a part of its chief motto of preserving Hindu Sanatana Dharma, said TTD EO Dr KS Jawahar Reddy.

Before taking calls from the pilgrims as a part of the monthly 'Dial your EO' program held at Annamayya Bhavan in Tirumala on Friday, the EO said TTD has taken up several programs in recent times on Go Samrakshana.

"Under Gudiko Gomata so far 60 Cows and calves were donated to temples across the country. TTD is also planning to develop Gosalas located in twin Telugu states of AP and Telangana besides special focus on Gosala at Palamaner", he explained.

The EO said already some philanthropists have come forward and donated Gir, Sahiwal, Tarparker, Red Sindhi, Ongole breeds to TTD as a part of its mission to promote Desi cow breed

Wake up and smell the coffee, says Kodagu

INTERNATIONAL Coffee Day was observed with fervour across Kodagu. While the women of Codagu Women's Coffee Awareness Body (CWCAB) served hot cups of filter coffee in the morning, the Rotary Club members served coffee to everyone gathered at Raja's Seat in the evening.

"We want to promote our coffee and we decided to use the opportunity of the International Coffee Day to serve everyone a warm cup of filter coffee," said Jyothika Bopanna, the Joint Secretary of CWCAB and added that the government needs to support the sector as production has come down. The international coffee day was observed in Madikeri at Coffee Krupa building.

Meanwhile, the Rotary Misty Hills organisation hosted a unique inaugural event to introduce Coorg Coffee to tourists. A total of 1,000 cups of filter coffee was sponsored by Rotary Misty Hills and the event was inaugurated by DC Charulata Somal and ZP CEO Bhanwar Singh Meena, who signed the painting of a coffee cup created by artist BR Satish.

NO POLITICS PLEASE OVER KERALA'S VIZHINJAM PORT

Kerala's long-awaited Vizhinjam Port will not be ready for another three years. The fact is the ₹7,525 crore deepwater multipurpose seaport project has already overshot its original deadline of December 2019 by nearly two years. Last week, the concessionaire Adani Ports formally informed the Kerala government that the construction of the first phase would be over only by December 2023. The entire project would be ready by December 2024, it said. While the Ockhi cyclone, massive floods of 2018 and Covid outbreak were cited as major factors that impaired the work, acute shortage of raw materials like boulders and rocks to construct breakwaters was another. Though Kerala's ports minister Ahamed Devarkovil felt the explanation was genuine, the opposition UDF has taken cudgels against the move to extend the deadline. Alleging "collusion" between the state government and the contractor, the Congress has asked the government to utilise the penalty clause in the contract. In reply, CM Pinarayi Vijayan said the government was seriously looking into that matter.

Political mudslinging between the two rival fronts has already cost Kerala dearly in terms of big-ticket projects. The Vizhinjam port was a dream project of the previous UDF government and the then CM Oommen Chandy had walked the extra mile to make it a reality. The deadline of 1,000 days declared by Gautam Adani, chairman of the Adani Group, during the foundation stone-laying ceremony in 2015 needs to be viewed in its spirit, not necessarily in the letter, as several external factors influence the work of a big project like this. By virtue of providing viability gap funding of ₹1,635 crore and ₹3,436 crore respectively, the Central and state governments have taken high stakes in the project. The only priority before the state government now should be to clear all hurdles and facilitate the completion of the project in a time-bound manner. The availability of raw materials needs to be ensured. To clear the air of suspicion, an impartial audit to verify the claims by the contractor and assess the feasibility of the revised deadline should be carried out. Parties must forget politics for a while and work together to get the project back on track.

WHAT BENGALURU ACCIDENTS REVEAL

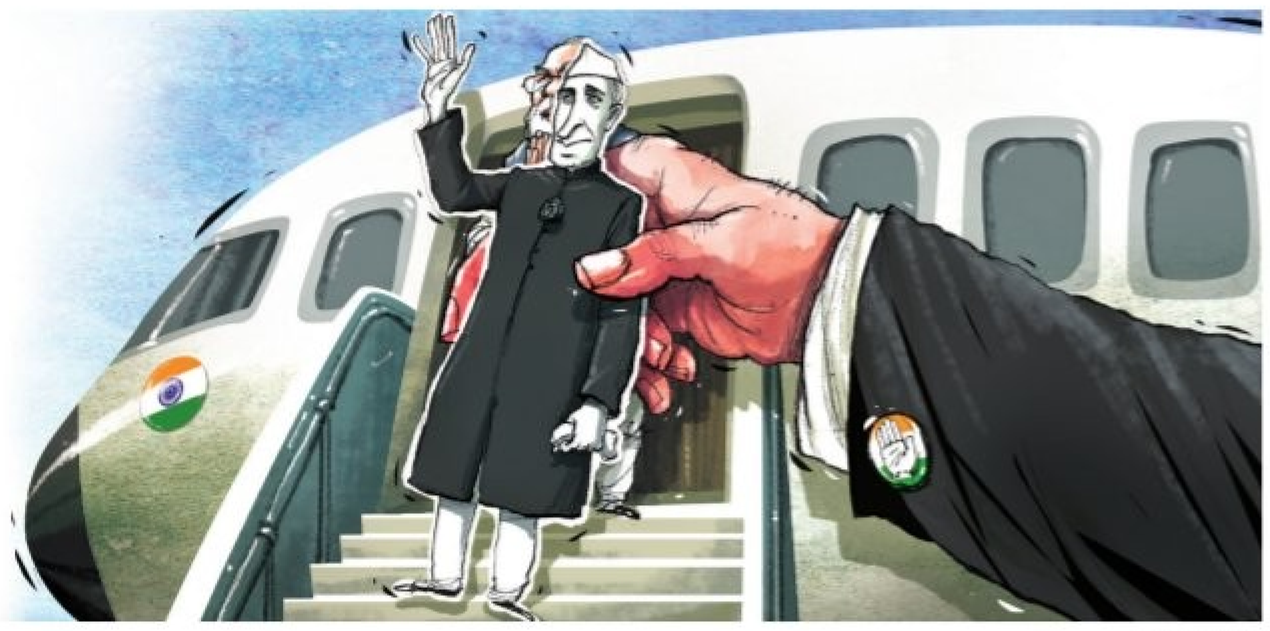
A rash of civic accidents in Bengaluru over the past week—two fires and two collapsed buildings—have one common factor: negligence of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). The accidents resulted in a horrific loss of lives and highlighted the lack of safety in homes and public spaces due to the actions of the BBMP, the builder and even the property owner. While there are detailed legislations in place to govern the city's structures and growth, implementation has been tardy. Rampant violation of building bylaws, disregard of the floor area ratio and the merry addition of unauthorised floors has resulted in big buildings with weak foundations. A pliant bureaucracy that runs on a mutual benefit basis abets and even encourages such violations.

In fact, there is a dispute over the number of illegal buildings in Bengaluru—the Karnataka High Court's order to the BBMP to conduct a survey of such structures resulted in an unbelievable 980 buildings across eight zones. Not surprisingly, the court threw the report back at the Palike and sought a resurvey. Officials have themselves admitted that 95% of the city's structures do not comply with building norms.

This jungle growth and lack of accountability is aided by a number of factors, including changing government policies. In the 1990s, the JD(S) government introduced the Akrama-Sakrama scheme to regularise illegal structures, hoping to reap a bumper harvest by way of regularisation fees. This spurred builders to bend every rule in the book in anticipation of future benefit. The Bangalore Metropolitan Task Force, a police unit set up to protect government properties and keep a vigil on corrupt officials and underhand goings-on, was systematically defanged. Successive governments ardently followed the doomed Akrama-Sakrama scheme, which got mired in legal crosshairs and was eventually declared untenable by the Supreme Court. The government, forced to resort to legislation to keep the various lobbies happy, pushed through the new BBMP Act, 2020, which gives free rein to the violator and protects a benign officialdom. Such a trend does not bode well for Bengaluru and could mar its metamorphosis into a Smart City.

Why do liberal reactionaries not get that the more they counter PM Modi's popularity with their elitism, they will only make him more entrenched among the masses?

MODI'S U.S. TOUR AND THE SNOBBERY OF THE ELITE



SOUMYADIP SINHA

SUGATA SRINIVASARAJU

Senior journalist and author

Prime Minister Narendra Modi was in the United States of America and the United Nations last week. He had multiple engagements and spoke many words in Washington and New York. He was in that country after a two-year gap, nine months since the exit of Donald Trump. The memories of the victory lap he had done with the former president in Houston in 2019, in his pale-yellow kurta and a trimmer haircut, has now been covered with mixed layers of emotion and ideas. In two years, the Covid pandemic that took charge of the world has transformed all people and nations without exception.

The words that Modi spoke this time in the US had a different ring and his stride was cautious. It appeared that diplomacy had returned to its traditional calm quarters without the hugs and the hoopla. Yet, there was a certain static in the whole dynamic affair. The establishment media and the liberal commentariat as well as the ruling party and the opposition did not budge from the way they approached the tour. They stuck to their prejudices and did not allow new contexts to challenge their well-formed habits.

The establishment circles were plain excited that Modi was getting into an airplane again. They behaved like they were in the 1970s and 1980s. That was when families at aerodromes noisily waved off an uncle who was on a short visit home from overseas, until he disappeared in the clouds. On the other hand, the liberal commentariat and opposition parties, particularly the Congress, behaved with a smug we-have-seen-it-all-before-you kind of cynicism and elitist snobbery. They could spot nothing new or correct in the prime minister.

The moment Modi posted a photo of his reading papers in the plane, they posted pictures of 'their' prime ministers performing similar acts decades ago. They wanted readers to decipher who was more genuine. Then, of course, there is always Jawaharlal Nehru to the rescue. His pictures of foreign tours with his daughter in tow and a swarm of crowds around him resurfaced and circulated to boredom. Are we supposed to keep admiring the aquiline nose of Nehru and his daughter? For the giant that Nehru was, to deploy his photos in the manner that they are, as a low-grade weapon to fight cheap political battles on social media, is nothing but a sham strategy devoid of imagination. They similarly used the image of Manmohan Singh to contrast the learning of Modi. That too violates the self-effacing nature and humility of Singh, who struggled to reach where he did. More importantly, he was a technocratic prime minister, not a political leader. The fact that he was not a political prime minister had shortchanged democracy and given rise to a Modi is not sufficiently recognised.

Seven years after Modi became prime minister, the reaction pattern of those who we may call liberal reactionaries (an oxymoron with the sweetest irony) has not changed. Why do they not get the simple fact that the more they counter Modi's popularity with their elitism, they will only make him more entrenched among the masses? It is not just Modi that the Congress has treated like this. They also treated Morarji Desai, Charan Singh, Chandra Shekhar and H D Deve Gowda in a similar fashion—with derision. These prime ministers were not communal. They fought the good fight for secularism and the rural poor, but then why were they ill-treated? One should only read the parliamentary no-confidence debates against some of these prime ministers to get a sample. Like they correct the English spellings of Modi and his bhakts, they corrected the language of others too and giggled at their accent. They would have giggled at Manmohan Singh's halting delivery too had he not earned his degrees from Oxford and Cambridge.

It is not just Modi that the Congress has treated like this. They also treated Morarji Desai, Charan Singh, Chandra Shekhar and H D Deve Gowda in a similar fashion—with derision. One should only read the parliamentary no-confidence debates against some of these prime ministers to get a sample

In his book, The Idea of India, Sunil Khilnani begins with a lie. He says H D Deve Gowda was 'the first prime minister who spoke neither English nor Hindi'. True, Gowda did not speak the Queen's English. But Khilnani was not aware that Gowda studied in the English medium in Holenarasipura and passed his engineering exams with a good score. Would it help if we say that Michael Sandal, who teaches at Harvard University, the haloed place of the elites, has written insightfully about such elitist traits in his recent book The Tyranny of Merit? It is important to fight ideological fights, but they are fought differently. There is something to learn from the Left here. Parliamentary and other debates in which an E M S Namboodiripad, Harkishen Singh Surjeet, A B Bardhan, Somnath Chatterjee, Jyoti Basu, Jyotirmoy Basu, Inderjit Gupta, Sitaram Yechury, D Raja, Prakash Karat, Subhashini Ali, Pinarayi Vijayan or Brinda Karat among others participated or participate in have a different ring of dignity to them.

While there is nothing much to write about Modi's cheer squads, there is a classic question to the ones who advertise themselves as the thinking type. When Modi was in the US and UN, he spoke about the climate crisis, democracy, global values, science-based learning, rational and progressive thinking as against regressive thinking, and vaccines, among other things. He quoted from Chanakya, M K Gandhi and Rabindranath Tagore. He spoke about all this not in English but Hindi, a language he is in full control of. Now, should he be welcomed and encouraged, whatever the contradictions there may be in his home agenda, for embracing a harmonious universalist theme, or should we tie him up obsessively to the past? Would the encouragement help bridge the gap between the walk and the talk? Shouldn't we be happy when he borrows liberal parlance? Should we mock him by asking why he did not quote M S Golwalkar and Vinayak Savarkar? Assume Modi's was all pretense, but do pretenses not grow on people?

LANKA PRAYER CAMPAIGN, GANDHIAN STRUGGLE AT ITS BEST

V SURYANARAYAN

Senior Professor (Retd), Centre for South and Southeast Asian Studies, University of Madras

When we in India, more often than not, have resorted to violence and whipped up hatred, a few leaders in foreign lands were adhering to Gandhian principles of resistance to evil. Nelson Mandela, in many ways, was a practitioner of Gandhian values. Though they never met, they were linked by a passion to resist oppression through non-violence. So also Martin Luther King Jr. In an article on the 10th anniversary of Gandhiji's passing away, King wrote that Bapu had done more than "any other person in history" to show that social problems could be solved without resorting to force. In that sense, he was more than a "saint of India, he belongs to the ages". Vaclav Havel, playwright-turned-politician, was another great practitioner of the Gandhian form of struggle against tyranny and dictatorship. He led the "Velvet Revolution" in Czechoslovakia and became the President of Czech Republic, and expressed support and solidarity with the exploited and marginalised throughout the world.

In this essay, I want to highlight how the leaders of the Indian Tamil community in Sri Lanka followed the Gandhian form of struggle to end the stigma of statelessness. Gandhiji had a special attachment to the Indian Tamil workers, who were his trusted followers in South Africa. They were the epitome of simplicity, hard work and self-sacrifice. Referring to the untold sufferings and sacrifices of the Tamils—Narayanasamy, Nagappan, Valliamma, and others—Gandhiji said in a speech in London on 8 August 1914: "These men and women are the salt of India; on them will be built the Indian nation that is to be. We are poor mortals before these heroes and heroines."

Gandhiji's only visit to Sri Lanka took place in 1927. He went to Ceylon at the invitation of Handy Perinbanayagam, President of the Jaffna Youth Congress—which was based on Gandhian principles, was non-communal and demanded full independence. Unfortunately, it disintegrated in the 1930s, and politics on the island began to take communal overtones. Gandhiji's objective was to popularise Khadi and prohibition. He visited all parts of the country. He was so touched by the similarity between South India and Ceylon that he referred to the latter as "India's daughter state". At the end of his visit, speaking in Colombo, Gandhiji advised the Indian community to identify itself completely with local aspirations just as "sugar in milk". Gandhiji's principled stance was in sharp contrast with that of China, which considered Chinese throughout the world to be citizens of China.

Nehru subscribed to the view that once India became independent, it would be able to support the demands of the Overseas Indians. But the newly independent governments, especially Ceylon and Burma, discriminated against the Indians on the issue of citizenship. Nehru advised the ruling elite that since most of the Indians were born there and contributed to the prosperity, they should be conferred local citizenship. In Ceylon, they were disenfranchised first and then rendered stateless. In 1964, Burma expelled thousands of Indians, the overwhelming majority of them Tamils.

Nehru's principled stance on the question of citizenship went into flames in Shantivan on 28 May 1964. His successor, Lal Bahadur Shastri, on the advice given by C S Jha, Commonwealth Secretary, decided to solve the problem based on "give and take". Without consulting the wishes of the concerned people, the countries entered into two agreements, in 1964 and 1974, as a result of which 6,00,000 stateless people, with their natural increase, were conferred Indian citizenship, whereas Ceylon agreed to confer citizenship on 3,75,000 people with their natural increase based on 7:4. The agreements were a betrayal of the Gandhi-Nehru legacy. Thondaman told me that he was not even given a visa to come to India to make representations to the Central and state governments.

The major problem confronting the Indian Tamil community from 1948 to 2003 was the stigma of statelessness. A born fighter, Thondaman started a prayer campaign in 1985. Plantation workers were to pray from 7 am to noon that God should give sufficient wisdom to Jayewardene and Premadasa so that the government would implement the assurances it had given them. It had its desired results

The major problem confronting the Indian Tamil community from 1948 to 2003 was the stigma of statelessness. A born fighter, Thondaman never gave up hope. With a judicious mix of parliamentary and extra-parliamentary struggles, he was able to compel the recalcitrant and intransigent Sinhala leadership to confer citizenship to his people in various stages. Finally, in 2003, the government enacted a law under which all those born in Sri Lanka after October 1964 and who wanted to be permanent residents were conferred Lankan citizenship, which included even those who had acquired Indian citizenship but were yet to be repatriated to India.

Among the struggles that Thondaman led, special mention should be made of the "prayer campaign". Despite the assurances given by President Jayewardene and Prime Minister Premadasa that they would soon find an amicable solution to the problem, the government began to drag its feet. The government had banned strikes and, therefore, that course of action was ruled out. Subsequently, Thondaman came up with the idea of a prayer campaign, which was essentially based on Gandhian principles. The objective was to bring about a change of heart among the Sinhalese leadership. On 29 May 1985, the Ceylon Workers Congress announced that a prayer campaign would commence from Thai Pongal (January 14) to Tamil New Year Day (April 14). The workers would pray from 7 am to 12 noon and then resume work. Thondaman held out the assurance that tea production would not be affected by the prayer campaign. The workers would pray that God should give sufficient wisdom to Jayewardene and Premadasa so that the government would soon implement the solemn assurances it had given to the Indian community. Gamini Dissanayake, minister-in-charge of the plantation industry, retaliated that if the workers did not work for five hours, they would not be paid wages for five hours. Thondaman responded: "In that case, we would pray for the whole day." The prayer campaign, conducted during the height of the plucking season, electrified the nation. It had its desired results.

I had the opportunity of discussing the pros and cons of the prayer campaign with Thondaman a few days later. He said that given the circumstances, he did not know what to do, did not get sleep, and was pacing up and down in his room. Early in the morning, the idea of a prayer campaign came to his mind. I told him that Gandhiji, on similar occasions, used to say that he heeded the call of the "inner voice". Thondaman was deeply touched and, five seconds later, I could see a twinkle in his eyes.

Don't destabilise Cong

This is with reference to Managing change in the Congress party (Oct 1). Though change is inevitable, the quick fixes of the Congress to revamp the structure of the party without considering the worries of its senior leaders turned out to be counterproductive. Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi Vadra should make sure the reforms never destabilise the party.

Trouble brewing in GOP

Former Punjab Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh ended all speculation by stating that while he is leaving the Congress, he will not be joining the BJP. There is a good chance he will start his own party soon. Things are in complete disarray in the Congress and it will get worse with Amarinder's decision. But they brought this upon themselves.
K R Srinivasan, Secunderabad

Party of the people?

The Congress high command should stop behaving autocratically and expect everyone to just fall in line with their decisions as they are a 'democratic' party, at least on paper. The senior leaders of the G23 should be consulted on crucial issues. The high command must remember that it is a party of the people, not of one family.

Gandhi's dress revolution

The town of Madurai is celebrating the centenary of Mahatma Gandhi's 'dress revolution' that took place there in September 1921 after he shed his Western attire and chose to wear a shawl and half-dhoti. Though the then British PM Winston Churchill ridiculed Gandhi for the attire by calling him a 'half-naked seditious fakir', it went on to become a quintessential symbol of the common man of India.

Govt decision not wise

When schools in Kerala are set to reopen in a month and children are raring to be back in classes, it is not wise of the government to announce that attendance is not compulsory. A smooth resumption after a long period of inactivity will only be possible if normal rules are observed as much as possible.

Health and convictions

This is with reference to Ex-TN min Indira Kumari convicted in '97 fund misappropriation case (Sep 30). The former minister reportedly developed breathing difficulties and had to be hospitalised as soon as the verdict was pronounced. I was not surprised because sudden deterioration in health takes place in the case of every politician on hearing the news of conviction or during raids by investigating agencies. While enjoying the ill-gotten wealth, they are always in the pink of health.

Import delay, limited availability prevent Sputnik take-off in India

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @New Delhi

INDIA has now reached a significant milestone of having fully vaccinated one in every four adult against Covid-19 but the role of Sputnik V in the drive, has been spectacularly underwhelming.

Of nearly 89 crore vaccines doses administered in India till Friday afternoon, less than just 9,56, 0859 doses were that of the Russian vaccine which uses an adenovirus based platform and claims 90% efficacy.

In other words, of every 1000 people who have taken shots, less than 1 received Sputnik V, despite its soft launch in India in May through its local partner Dr Reddy's.

Sources in the government said a delay on the part of Russia to send both the doses of the vaccine together —Sputnik V, given in two doses is the only vaccine where both the doses have separate components which are not interchangeable — is a main reason why it could never really take off in India. The other reason is the vaccine being only available in private hospitals where it costs ₹995 per shot. Another limitation is that its recipients must receive both the doses at the same centre.

"While Russia sent the first batch to India, it only sent the first doses but the hospitals could not immediately start administering it as the two doses are to be given only 21 days apart and the second doses did not arrive for a long time," said a senior official. This was confirmed by a representative of private hospitals.

"As the adult vaccination started-many people even interested in Sputnik V could not get it and later once they took one shot of either Covishield or Covaxin, they could not get Sputnik V evn if its both doses were available at the hospitals," said Girdhar J Gyani, director general of the Association of Healthcare providers of India. "With Covid19 vaccination saturated in metropolitans now, there are few takers for this vaccines," he added.

A spokesperson with Dr Reddy's told this newspaper that with the start of supply of the second dose component manufactured by a partner in India, it has initiated supply of the first dose component to partner hospitals all over India followed by equivalent quantities of the second dose component. "The supply momentum therefore is ongoing," said the firm.

The Russian Direct Investment Fund, which markets the vaccine abroad, did not respond to a request for comment.

Cong in pathetic state, Capt says as Rawat questions proximity to BJP

Punjab in-charge denies Amarinder's humiliation charge; ex-CM says integrity beyond doubt

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

A day after Amarinder Singh announced to quit the Congress alleging he was humiliated, AICC in-charge for Punjab Harish Rawat launched a no-holds-barred attack on the former chief minister, evoking a stinging response from him.

Questioning Amarinder's "proximity" to the BJP, Rawat said he should have stood with the Congress "to save democracy, instead of playing into the hands of people who were using his so-called humiliation for political reasons". "His proximity with Amit Shah and some other BJP leaders puts his secular credentials in doubt," Rawat said and advised him not to walk into the BJP's trap.

Summarily rejecting Amarinder's charge of being humiliated, Rawat said the allegation was being made "under pressure" and cautioned him against "directly or indirectly" helping the BJP.

"Amarinder was Punjab Congress president thrice and chief minister twice. Is it humiliation?" Rawat questioned. He added that the party had given him more opportunities than any other senior leader. He also claimed that the former CM was reminded several times to "take action on our poll promises", but he failed to do that.

Hours later, Amarinder claimed to be shocked by Rawat's "blatant lies" and said the attack was "prompted by the pathetic situation the party has now found itself in Punjab after being on a winning spree for four-and-a-half years".

He said even his worst critics and enemies could not doubt his integrity and that the only pressure he had been under for the past few months was that of his own loyalty to the Congress, because of which he continued to tolerate insult after insult.

"Three weeks before stepping down as CM, I had offered my resignation to Sonia Gandhi but she had asked me to continue," said Amarinder, adding that he was pushed into resigning in a humiliating manner just hours before the Congress Legislature Party meeting.

Meanwhile, with the former CM keeping the option of floating a new party open, sources said he was looking to garner a sizable number of supporters to engineer a split in the Congress. According to sources, 15 MLAs are in touch with Amarinder but he is on wait and watch mode for more legislators to get disgruntled with the state of affairs in the party. "If he manages to bring 25 MLAs with him, it might spell trouble for Congress," said a leader.

Political analysts said given the likelihood of a hung assembly in 2022 polls, the ex-CM could play a key role in government formation.

Channi meets Modi; raises farmer, procurement issues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PUNJAB Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi on Friday said Prime Minister Narendra Modi had assured him of early resolution of the paddy procurement issue.

The remarks came wake of the Central government's decision to postpone the paddy procurement in Punjab and Haryana till October 10 in view of delayed crop maturity due to recent heavy rains.

Channi, who called on the PM on Friday, said it was a courtesy visit and the outcome of the meeting was quite positive. The CM sought to impress upon Modi to find a permanent solution to the farmers' demands saying it has led to an overall slowdown in the state which has a predominantly agrarian economy.

He emphasised the need to resume the process of dialogue with the farmers immediately to repeal the farm laws and sought the PM's personal intervention in this regard. He also sought the Centre's wholehearted cooperation to encourage organic farming.

Channi also appealed to the prime minister to immediately reopen the Kartarpur corridor as the Covid-19 situation had considerably improved.

Swachh 2.0 a step towards Ambedkar's dream: PM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi on Friday invoked B R Ambedkar while launching the ambitious second phase of the Swachh Bharat Mission. Also launching the Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation (AMRUT) 2.0, the PM said that Babasaheb Ambedekar believed in urban development as a great means of removing inequality and that the second phases will be an important step towards fulfilling his dreams.

"Many people from villages come to cities with an aspiration for a better life and even after getting employment, their standard of living remains in a difficult situation as compared to their lives in the villages. Babasaheb's emphasis was on changing this situation by removing this inequality. The next phase of Swachh Bharat Mission and Amrut is an important step towards fulfilling the dreams of Babasaheb," the PM said.

While the goal of Swachh Bharat Mission (Urban) 2.0 is to make cities completely free of garbage, Amrut 2.0 will target improved sewage and septic management, realise water-safe cities and ensure that no sewage drains run near rivers, said the prime minister.

The schemes, with an outlay of about Rs 4.4 lakh crore, will adopt 'Universal Approach' and make a move towards 'Saturation' in sanitation and water availability in all Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) and officials said that World Bank, Asian Development Bank and other such institutions have committed funding for the two missions.

SC raps farmers for 'strangulating' Delhi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

SLAMMING a farmer group that has approached the Supreme Court seeking permission to hold protests at Delhi's Jantar Mantar, the top court said there was no point in approaching court if the farmers continued protests by blocking roads and highways.

"You have strangulated the city and now you want to come inside the city. You are obstructing security and defence personnel. All this should stop. There is no point in protest once you come to the court challenging the laws," Justice A M Khanwilkar told the counsel appearing for the petitioner Kisan Mahapanchayat.

The Mahapanchayat had sought permission to hold a satyagraha at the Jantar Mantar. "What is the point of doing satyagraha? You have approached the court. Have trust in court. Once you have approached the court, what is the point of protest? Are you protesting against the judicial system? Have faith in the system," the bench remarked.

Advocate Ajay Choudhary, appearing for the petitioner, said this organsation was not part of the protests blocking the roads and highways and added that it was the police, not the farmers who were blocking the highways. Following this submission, the bench asked the counsel to file an affidavit affirming that it is not part of the road blockade and said it will consider taking up the matter again the affidavit was filed.

On Thursday, the court had taken a grim view of the continuing blockade of highways connecting Delhi to the neighbouring states by farmers.

NOTICE TO GOVT ON AADHAAR AS ID FOR JAB

New Delhi: The SC on Friday issued notice on a plea seeking directions to the Centre not to insist on the production of Aadhaar card as the only proof of identification for administering Covid-19 vaccine. The plea said seven photo ID cards are listed on CoWIN portal for registration to book a slot.

Congress wants its leaders to speak less in public space

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Congress central leadership, which is battling the crisis triggered by Captain Amarinder Singh's resignation as Punjab chief minister, hopes that he will reconsider his decision to quit the party. The party wants its leaders to speak more in private and less in public.

"He is a very valuable colleague. He was the Chief Minister of Punjab for over nine years and I hope he will reconsider his decision," AICC spokesperson Supriya Shrinate told media persons in Bengaluru on Friday. The former CM, who had accused the party of humiliating him, had made it clear that he will not continue with the Congress, though he has no intention of joining the BJP.

Justifying the change of leadership in Punjab, the AICC spokesperson said legislators had felt the need for it and added that it was done after holding consultations. However, after the leadership change, state Congress chief Navjot Singh Sidhu's resignation put the party in a quandary. The AICC spokesperson said he had some differences of opinion and he quit the position.

Meanwhile, Congress workers protesting outside senior leader Kapil Sibal's residence after he raised questions over the party's functioning, indicated that the situation was further worsening. The AICC spokesperson said they appreciate Sibal's right to raise the issues, but they hope those issues are not raised on public platforms as that gives ammunition to their opponents. Asking the party leaders to refrain from discussing internal issues in public, she said, "What happens within our party is very public. I hope our leaders talk more in private and less in public."

Judicial probe into drug haul

The Congress has demanded an inquiry into the seizure of 3,000 kg heroin at Gujarat's Adani Mundra port on September 16, under the supervision of a sitting Supreme Court judge.

Supriya aid an inquiry under the SC judge can bring out the identity of the drug syndicate and its patrons. "About 3,000 kg heroin worth over Rs 21,000 crore was seized at the Mundra port. But what followed was complete silence by the government," she said. "One still doesn't know who is behind the drug syndicate as drug import in this quantum by small-time peddlers is impossible," she added.

TALIBAN DEAL

'India wasn't taken into confidence'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar has said that India was not taken into confidence with regard to the deal with Taliban which was finalized last year.

"I think to some degree, we would all be justified in having levels of concern and to some degree, I think the jury is still out. When I say levels of concern, the commitments which were made by the Taliban at Doha, the US knows it best. We were not taken into confidence on various aspects of that," the minister said during a virtual address at the annual leadership summit of the US-India Strategic Partnership Forum.

Jaishankar said that the recognition of the Taliban government will be based on the group's fulfillment of commitments mentioned in the Doha deal. On India and the US' position on the situation in Afghanistan, he said, "I think we are on similar pages at a principle level on many of these issues, certainly say terrorism. The use of Afghan soil for terrorism is something both of us feel so strongly and it was something which was discussed when Prime Minister Narendra Modi met President Joe Biden."

The external affairs minister said that there will be some issues that the US and India agree more on while on others it would be less.

AFSPA extended in three districts in Arunachal Pradesh

New Delhi: The Centre on Friday extended the stringent Armed Forces (Special Powers) Act in Tirap, Changlang and Longding districts of Arunachal Pradesh for another six months, while it declared four police station limits also as 'disturbed areas'. Two of these police stations fall in Namsai district, and one each in Lower Dibang and Lohit districts bordering Assam. The decision was taken after a comprehensive review of insurgent activities and law-and-order situation in the state, officials said. The notification issued by the union ministry of home affairs will be effective from October 1, 2021, to March 31, 2022. The government issued a notification in exercise of the powers conferred by Section 3 of the AFSPA. On removal of AFSPA from two police stations in – Lower Dibang and Lohit districts – officials said that the government found a significant improvement in security situation in the two areas. They added that this is for the first time after a long period that AFSPA will not be applicable to the two police stations. ENS

BIDDER'S DELIGHT

Up for auction, PM's memorabilia garners bids running into lakhs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

A 'decorative mace', 'peacock' (wooden frame), idols of Sita, Ram, Laxman with Hanuman placed on a silver pedestal, 'Elephant' (gold embellished miniature sculpture), and brass statue of Goddess Laxmi with garland are gaining maximum traction among nearly 1,348 mementos that were put up at online auction initiated by the culture ministry last month.

Pandemic hit anti-Naxal ops in Chhattisgarh: DGP

Adds conditions sought by Naxals for surrender are not acceptable

DM AWASTHI, the Chhattisgarh Police head, who is considered to be an expert on Left Wing Extremism, has seen LWE from close quarters for years as the Special Director General for anti-Naxal operations in Chhattisgarh. In an interview to The New Indian Express's Sana Shakil, Awasthi said that COVID-19 did affect operations against the Naxals. He defended his force against the charges of going slow on Naxals and expressed hope that several successful operations against the extremists will be carried out in the near future.

I do not believe in conducting operations for the sake of numbers. Operations should result in success, and we have maintained a great success rate. We are confident of more successful operations in the near future.

DM Awasthi, Chhattisgarh DGP

Chhattisgarh CM Bhupesh Baghel has talked about the possibility of talking to Maoists, if they surrender their weapons. Do you see any progress on that front?
The governments at the Centre and at the state have always expressed willingness to talk to the Naxals if they give up arms. The Naxals put up various conditions like imposition of ceasefire, and release of their cadre from jails. Those conditions are not acceptable. One has to work within the ambit of the Constitution as the chief minister himself recently stated. Not just the governments but civil society members have also been trying to engage with the Naxals. The purpose is to ensure peace in the state. Nothing like it, if we achieve peace through non-violent means.

Official data show that the number of operations has gone down. According to the CRPF, the police have gone slow on operations. Your response.
There is no lack of coordination and cooperation between the police and the central forces. Local police cannot be accused of going slow on Naxal operations. There are reasons why fewer operations were carried out over the last two years. We have to take into account the effects of the pandemic, which affected our force. Covid has been a major challenge. I do not believe in conducting operations for the sake of numbers. Operations should result in success, and we have maintained a great success rate. We are confident of more successful operations in the near future.

Is the government planning to introduce any new initiative to encourage more surrender?
We recently reviewed our state surrender policy under which we have provided jobs to many Naxals. We are going to strictly monitor the implementation of the policy. When more people get rehabilitated, more get encouraged to surrender. Chhattisgarh has a very attractive policy. We will ensure better enforcement of the policy.

Have drone sightings increased in Naxal areas?
We have not noticed anything alarming on that front.

Dams open floodgate of Didi's diatribe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

IN another face-off with the Centre over the issue of flood situation in south Bengal, Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee hit out at the Centre for releasing water from the dams of Damodar Valley Corporation (DVC) allegedly without informing her government.

"This is a man-made flood. The DVC released water from reservoirs in Bengal, Bihar and Jharkhand without informing us. This is a crime. The Centre is doing injustice to West Bengal. I request the people living in affected area to keep faith on the administration. The government is with them to provide all helps they need,'' she said, adding that the Centre's unilateral decision was a "crime".

"Dredging was not carried out in the reservoirs to remove silt. If the work was done, the capacity of reservoirs would have been more and there would have been no need to release water."

Last August, Mamata had highlighted the "man-made flood'' after the DVC released water resulting in floods in south Bengal.

While the DVC released 2.75 lakh cusec of water on Thursday, another 1.5 lakh cusec water followed on Friday. A large part of Bankura, Asansol, Birbhum, Hooghly was flooded following heavy rain and the release of water from reservoirs. Five deaths were reported in the last 24 hours.

Apart from NDRF personnel, five columns (about 400 soldiers) of Army are engaged in Hooghly and Asansol to expedite the rescue operations.

On Saturday, Mamata will undertake an aerial survey of the flood-affected areas to take stock of the situation. Urging the people to donate to the chief minister's relief fund, she took a jibe at the PM-CARES fund. "The CM's relief fund is not the PM-CARES fund. We will deliver the assistance to the needy."

UP govt's nod to CBI probe in bizman case

LUCKNOW: In a late night development, the Uttar Pradesh government recommended a probe by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) into the killing of Kanpur businessman Manish Gupta.

Businessman Manish Gupta's widow, who had met UP CM Yogi Adityanath on Thursday, had requested him for the CBI probe.

A government spokesperson also said that the state government had set up a Special Investigation Team in Kanpur to probe into the case till the time the CBI takes over the case.

Meanwhile, the government also raised the ex gratia amount to ₹40 lakh. Initially, an amount of ₹10 lakh was announced for the victim's family as compensation but the victim's wife had urged the CM to raise the amount. ENS

CJI upset with behaviour of bureaucracy, police officers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EXPRESSING reservations over behaviour of the bureaucracy and police, Chief Justice of India N V Ramana on Friday said he had plans earlier to constitute a committee for examination of complaints against them but reserved that for later.

The remarks came when the bench headed by him was hearing a plea by a suspended additional director general of police of Chhattisgarh, Gurjinder Pal Singh, seeking protection in criminal cases filed against him.

"I have lot of reservations at the way as to how bureaucracy, particularly how police officers, are behaving in this country," CJI Ramana said. "I was at one time thinking of creating a standing committee to examine atrocities and complaints against bureaucrats, particularly police officers, headed by Chief Justice of High Court. I want to reserve that, don't want to do it now," the CJI said.

Three special leave petitions have been moved before the Supreme Court challenging the Chhattisgarh High Court's orders refusing to quash the FIRs against the petitioner for various offences, including extortion, corruption and sedition.

The SC bench, which reserved its order, said it would grant protection to the suspended officer from any coercive action in two cases lodged for sedition and extortion and requested the HC to decide his pleas within eight weeks.

The State Anti-Corruption Bureau and Economic Offences Wing had registered an FIR against Singh under the Prevention of Corruption Act on June 29 after preliminary findings into complaints that he had allegedly amassed disproportionate assets.

On July 1, the residence of the petitioner was raided by the police which allegedly found some pieces of papers in a drain behind the house. They were later reconstructed which revealed that Singh was allegedly involved in hatching a conspiracy against the government and public representatives.

After this, an FIR was registered against him under IPC Sections 124A (sedition) and 153A (promoting enmity between different groups on grounds of religion, race etc.).

UP POLLS

Tejasvi Surya takes 'Bhai jaan' jibe at SP

LUCKNOW: Taking the controversial 'Abba jaan' jibe of UP CM Yogi Adityanath further, BJP MP Tejasvi Surya slammed the previous Samajwadi Party rule during which, he claimed, the policy of appeasement was followed for one community but the interests of only one family protected.

"While in the present dispensation, headed by Yogiji, the principle of sabka saath , sabka vishwas is being followed in extending the benefits of welfare schemes, in the previous government the norm was 'Bhaijaan ke saath… Mian ka Vishwaas aur Apna Vikas," he said in the inaugural address of the BJYM working committee meeting on Friday.

Surya claimed that it was only after Yogi Adityanath came to power that the equal development of all sections of the society started in UP.

The Bharatiya Janata Yuva Morcha president assured his parent party of all help in the polls, saying that he along with his team would be visiting all six organisational regions and each of 18 divisions of the state. "UP poll results have nationwide repercussions. We will ensure that the party gets a bigger win in 2022 than 2017."

In a jibe at the opposition, he said: "Haathi thak gaya hai… cycle puncture ho gayi hai. sab jagah bas kamal hi kamal khilega"(The elephant (BSP) has got tired and the cycle (SP) is punctured. Now only lotus will bloom everywhere in UP). ENS

Another BJP MLA resigns in Bengal

Kolkata: The beleagured BJP received another jolt in north Bengal as Krishna Kalyani, the MLA from Raiganj in North 24 Dinajpur, announced his resignation on Friday. His decision came a day after the party showcaused him for speaking against Raiganj MP Debasree Chaudhuri. Kalyani had accused Debasree of hatching a conspiracy against him. BJP's state chief Sukanta Majumdar urged Kalyani to reconsider his resignation.

Dubbed witch, woman, family flee J'khand village

Ranchi: In Jharkhand's Maoist hotbed of Khunti, a tribal woman and her family were forced to leave he village and take refuge in Khunti after life-threats from villagers who accused her of practicing witchcraft. The trauma did not end there as the family were allegedly tortured and imposed a fine of ₹1.6 lakh. Unable to pay the hefty fine, the woman along with her husband and children left the village.

No doctor despite ₹1.5L salary offer!

Guwahati: An offer of a hefty salary of ₹1.5 lakh per month by the Arunachal Pradesh government has failed to attract doctors to fill in two posts. The reason is the remoteness of the place. Changlang requires two doctors, a gynaecologist and an anaesthesiologist on contractual basis. After no candidate showed up for the walk-in interview, authorities extended the deadline by two weeks and advertise the posts again with provisions of travelling and dearness allowance. Changlang District Magistrate Devansh Yadav, who himself is a doctor, said the interview was open to all. "There was lack of awareness. Secondly, people earn more by doing private practices," Yadav said.

Be available in court, judge tells Deshmukh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

A court directed former Maharashtra home minister Anil Deshmukh to appear before it on November 16, saying that he willfully ignored summons of the Enforcement Directorate in a money laundering case.

The ED sought action against Deshmukh in an application under Section 174 of the IPC which deals with non-attendance in obedience to an order from a public servant. If found guilty under Section 174, the NCP leader may face up to one month in prison or be fined.

"Deshmukh is directed to appear before the court on November 16. Prima facie, a case is made out," Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate RM Nirlekar said, noting that the ED's summons was received by Deshmukh, his daughter or advocate on his behalf.

The ED, probing a money laundering case in the alleged extortion from bar and restaurant owners, has sent five summons to Deshmukh.

In separate proceedings before the HC, Deshmukh has sought stay and quashing of ED summons.

Centre's J&K report far from reality: Gupkar

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TERMING the Centre's report on the removal of Article 370 as "far from the reality", the Gupkar Alliance on Friday asserted that Article 370 was not an impediment in the overall development of J&K.

The BJP government is taking credit for the projects approved by previous administrations, Gupkar spokesperson Mohd Yousuf Tarigami added.

"The claims in a recently released report by Home ministry titled 'The dream of one nation, one law, one symbol fulfilled: After effective removal of the provisions of Article 370, the picture has changed' are far from the reality. The reality is — there is a systematic disempowerment of J&K people that is continuing to happen through bureaucratic rule," he said.

The projects mentioned in the booklet were mostly approved by earlier governments but shown to have been an outcome of abrogation of Article 370, he said. "The reality is that Nashri, Zojilla tunnels, establishment of 50 degree colleges and various medical colleges were projects approved much before abrogation of Article 370."

On August 5, 2019, the Centre had scrapped special status of J&K and bifurcated the state into two Union Territories.

Artists paint murals as part of the Smart City Project in Srinagar on Friday | PTI

The BJP government, the Gupkar spokesperson said, is boasting of implementation of various laws, like Land Reforms and RTI Act. "This is a blatant lie as J&K was a pioneer in implementing revolutionary land reforms laws."

J&K lags far behind on unemployment, which has assumed the highest unemployment proportion as compared to the pre-August 2019 period, he said. "Unemployment rate is highest in India in last 45-years. In J&K, it is worse than that."

Before the revocation of Article 370, he said, not only had J&K kept pace with other states in improvement in Human Development Indices (HDI) but were better on some indicators pertaining to literacy rates, marriage and fertility, child sex ratios and school attendance rates of girls.

The PM Kisan, Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya schemes are being implemented in J&K just like any other state or Union Territory of the country, he said.

Zee denies EGM despite NCLT order

Says requisition of EGM invalid & illegal; 2 investors oppose MD & firm's merger with Sony

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

IN further twist in the tussle with its shareholders, Zee Entertainment Enterprise has refused to convene the extraordinary general meeting (EGM) despite the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) asking it to do so.

In a statement on Friday, Zee Entertainment said that its board (after its meeting on Friday) has arrived at a conclusion that the requisition (of EGM) is invalid and illegal, and has accordingly conveyed its inability to convene the EGM.

"The board has arrived at the decision by referring to various non-compliances under multiple laws, including the Securities and Exchange Board of India guidelines, Ministry of Information and Broadcasting guidelines and key clauses under the Companies Act & Competition Act, and after taking into account the interests of all the shareholders and stakeholders," the company said.

The NCLT on Thursday ordered Zee Entertainment to convene EGM as sought by the two shareholders — Invesco Developing Markets Fund and OFI Global China Fund LLC, who together hold a 17.88% stake in the company.

LARGER PICTURE

- Invesco Developing Markets Fund and OFI Global China Fund LLC together hold a 17.88% stake in the company
- Zee Entertainment had announced merger with the Sony Pictures Network on Sept 22

The two investors have been calling for the ouster of Zee Entertainment's managing director Punit Goenka because of what they term as "the erratic manner in which important and serious decisions have been handled" by the company. The investors also seem to be aggrieved by Zee Entertainment's September 22 announcement to merge with the Sony Pictures Network Ltd.

Meanwhile, responding to an email from TNIE, Invesco Developing Markets Fund has said that ZEEL's failure to take steps within its notice period to call an EGM, coupled with its delay in noticing their EGM on September 11 and failure to notice their September 23 letter to the exchanges, has prompted them to file a petition before the NCLT to enforce their rights to call for an EGM.

"We continue to believe that (ZEEL's) business is valuable, whether on its own or in alignment with a strategic partner. The deep bench of talent within Zee and in the Indian media industry has helped shape our view that any such transitions, if required, can be properly managed," Invesco told TNIE.

SINGAPORE PLANS CENTRAL DATA PLATFORM TO FIGHT MONEY LAUNDERING

Singapore's central bank on Friday said it would create a digital platform enabling banks to share information on customers and transactions, part of efforts to prevent money laundering and financing of criminal activity. The Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS) said in a statement that it plans to launch the platform in the first half of 2023 and make it available to the city-state's six biggest commercial banks in the initial phase. Financial and trade hubs like Singapore are particularly vulnerable to money laundering due to large cross-border flows. Described by the MAS as the first centralised platform of its kind, the initiative was the result of cooperation between the MAS and DBS, OCBC, United Overseas Bank, Standard Chartered Bank, Citibank and HSBC. The MAS said a common challenge faced by financial institutions was not being able to warn each other about unusual activity in customers' accounts. In 2015, Singapore discovered that funds linked to the scandal-ridden Malaysian state fund 1MDB were laundered through its banking system. The MAS shut down local units of two Swiss private banks in 2016, froze millions of dollars, charged bankers and imposed fines on banks.

MYANMAR CURRENCY TRADE TURNS TO ONLINE GROUPS ON FACEBOOK AMID CRISIS

As Myanmar's economic slump deepens after February's military coup and parts of its financial system freeze up, many in the strife-torn country are turning to online groups to bypass official channels to trade currencies. The fragility of the financial system was further exposed this week when the kyat currency sank to new lows after the central bank gave up on attempts to prop it up. Many licenced money exchanges and gold shops shut their doors in the turmoil that followed. The online groups, which run mainly on Facebook, have become a way for buyers and sellers of currencies to connect, often relying on trust when arranging physical exchanges of notes. In the immediate months after the February, 1 coup, long lines of people queued up to withdraw cash from banks, though recently kyat savings have taken an ever bigger hit with the currency losing 60% of its value against the dollar in September. Speaking after the World Bank warned this week the economy could slump 18% this year, the ruling military council's spokesman Zaw Min Tun said the central bank had been unable to meet local demand for dollars.

MALAYSIA'S HELP NEEDED TO EASE GLOBAL CHIP SHORTAGE: TAIWAN

Malaysia's help is needed to resolve the global shortage of auto semiconductors, especially when it comes to packaging, a sector affected by the country's Covid-19 curbs, Taiwan Economy Minister Wang Mei-hua said. Taiwan, as a major chip producer, has been front and centre of efforts to resolve the shortage, which has idled auto plants around the world. Taiwan alone could not sort out the problem because the supply chain is so complex. "The bottleneck in fact is in Southeast Asia, especially Malaysia, because for a while the factories were all shut down," Wang told Reuters. The problem was especially acute with auto chip packaging, with companies in Malaysia providing services not offered by Taiwanese firms. Malaysia is home to suppliers and factories serving semiconductor makers such as Europe's STMicroelectronics and Infineon, as well as major carmakers including Toyota Motor Corp and Ford Motors. Malaysia accounts for 13% of global chip packaging and testing, and 7% of the world's semiconductor trade passes through the country, with some value added at local factories and chips getting combined with other parts before final shipment.

GST mop-up at 5-month high of ₹1.17 lakh cr in September

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE gross Goods and Services Tax (GST) collection for September stood at ₹1.17 lakh crore, at five-month high, 23% higher than the GST revenues in the same month last year, and the officials expect the second half revenue to be better backed by the coming festive season.

Of the total collection, CGST is ₹20,578 crore, SGST is ₹26,767 crore, IGST is ₹60,911 crore, including ₹29,555 crore collected on import of goods, and Cess is ₹8,754 crore including ₹623 crore collected on import of goods.

The government said it has settled ₹28,812 crore to CGST and ₹24,140 crore to SGST from IGST as regular settlement.

"This clearly indicates that the economy is recovering at a fast pace. Coupled with economic growth, anti-evasion activities, especially action against fake billers, have also been contributing to the enhanced GST collections. It is expected that the positive trend in the revenues will continue and the second half of the year will post higher revenues," finance ministry said in a statement on Friday.

The total revenue of Centre and states after regular settlements is ₹49,390 crore for CGST and ₹50,907 crore for the SGST.

"Revenues from import of goods were 30% higher and the revenues from domestic transaction (including import of services) are 20% higher than the revenues from these sources during the same month last year. The revenue for September 2020 was, in itself at a growth of 4% over the revenue of September 2019 of ₹91,916 crore," the statement added.

Reliance extends deadline for Future deal by 6 months

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

DEALING yet another blow to Kishore Biyani-led Future group, Reliance Retail Ventures Ltd has deferred its plan to complete the buyout of Future Retail by six months.

In an exchange filing, Future Enterprise Ltd said on Friday that Reliance Retail Ventures Limited has in exercise of the right provided under the transaction documents extended the timeline for Long Stop Date from 30 September 2021 to 31 March 2022.

A Long Stop Date is the time frame within which a merger and acquisition transaction has to be completed.

An official from Reliance group told The New Indian Express that until the Supreme Court decides on the matter, how they can go ahead with the deal.

Amazon, which had acquired 49% stake in Future Retail's promoter entity Future Coupons, had moved the international arbitration court against the Future Retail's merger deal with Reliance citing breach of contract.

Reliance Retail Ventures, a subsidiary of RIL, had announced in August 2020 that it would acquire the retail and wholesale business, and the logistics and warehousing business of Future Group for ₹24,713 crore.

Deadly blow for Future

The extension means a deadly blow for Future group which has been saddled with over ₹20,500 crore debt. Some of its group companies have narrowly missed being dragged into the insolvency resolution process.

In October 2020, a Singapore-based international arbitration court had passed an interim order in favour of Amazon restraining Future Retail's merger with Reliance Retail.

In August this year, the Supreme Court of India had ruled in favour of Amazon by holding that the arbitral award was valid and enforceable under Indian laws. However, the Mumbai bench of the NCLT had on Sept 28 allowed Future Group firms to hold meetings of shareholders and creditors to seek approval for asset sale to Reliance Retail.

OYO looks to raise ₹8,400 cr through IPO; files draft paper

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RITESH Agarwal and Soft Bank-owned Oravel Stay Private Ltd (Oyo) has filed draft paper for its ₹8,400-crore initial public offer (IPO) with the market regulator Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) on Friday.

The company, which provides a technology-enabled platform to small hotel owners to reach a larger section of customers, is planning to issue fresh equity shares worth ₹7,000 crore and raise another ₹1,430 crore through an Offer for Sale (OFS) issue.

According to the draft paper, OYO may consider a pre-IPO placement for an amount not exceeding ₹1,400 crore.

The company says in the draft paper that a part of the proceeds of the issue – ₹2,441 crore – would go towards prepayment or repayment of debt availed by its subsidiaries, while ₹2,900 crore would be used for organic and inorganic growth of the company.

According to the draft paper, Softbank Ventures Funds (SVF) India Holding holds 46.62% in the company, while its founder Ritesh Agarwal and its holding company -- RA Hospitality Holdings (Cayman) – together hold 33.15% in the company.

Investors like SVF India, A1 Holdings Inc, China Lodging Holdings (HK) Limited and Global Ivy Ventures LLP may sell some of their holdings in the company through the public issue.

As per the draft paper, the company has so far earned revenue of ₹3,961 crore and posted a loss of ₹3,944 crore in 2020-21. In 2019-20, the company posted revenue of ₹13,168 crore and reported a loss of ₹13,123 crore. Its total debt stood at ₹3,166 crore on a consolidated basis as on 31 March 2021.

E-WASTE RECYCLE

MTC, Exigo JV to hire 2,000 at Bengaluru and Chennai plants

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

MTC Exigo Recycling Pvt Ltd (MERPL), a joint venture company between metal scrap processor MTC group and e-waste recycler Exigo, said its first plants that will be operational in Bengaluru and Chennai by March 2022 will create direct and indirect jobs for over 1000 people per plant.

The JV, which recently announced its plans to invest nearly $25 million 'in a phased manner', intends to be a 360-degree player in the e-waste ecosystem.

MERPL targets to process over 2 lakh tonnes of e-waste annually and expand its presence to 10+ cities including NCR, Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, Kolkata, and Lucknow. It plans to employ 1,000 people at each plant in the mentioned 10+ cities going forward.

ALN Rao, CEO, Exigo Recycling Pvt Ltd., said, "In every city where the plant will open, there will be 1,000 people employed - direct and indirect. Also, the necessary skilled development required will be imparted."

According to the UN's Global E-waste Monitor 2020, India is the third largest electronic waste generator in the world after China and the USA and these three countries together contributed 38% of total 53.6 million tonne of e-waste generated worldwide in 2019.

It, however, revealed only 17.4% (9.3 MT) of the total e-waste was collected and recycled globally.

EV batteries' recycling and pre-processing

MERPL's line of activity will also include pre-processing and recycling of lithium-ion batteries & EV batteries of different chemistries, solar PV module recycling, plastic recycling, and waste to energy (W2E), the company said.

Exports rise 21.35% to $33.44 bn, trade deficit widens to $22.94 bn

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA'S merchandise exports stood at $33.44 billion for September, up by 21.35% against the same period last year, according to the preliminary data released by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry on Friday.

India's export was $27.56 billion in September last year.

The top sectors, which performed impressively during the month, include Engineering Goods, Petroleum Products, Gem and Jewellery, Chemicals, Drugs & Pharmaceuticals, Cotton Yarn, Fabrics and Handloom Products and Electronic Goods among others.

Even imports rose $56.38 billion in September from $30.52 billion last year, up by 84.75%, pushing trade deficit to $22.94 billion. Total merchandise trade deficit was $78.81 billion during April-September 2021.

"Value of non-oil, non-GJ (gold, silver & Precious metals) imports was $30.71 billion in September 2021 with a positive growth of 39.61% over non-oil and non-GJ imports of $21.99 billion in September 2020 and appositive growth of 22.9% over non-oil and non-GJ imports of $24.98 billion in September 2019," the Ministry said in a statement.

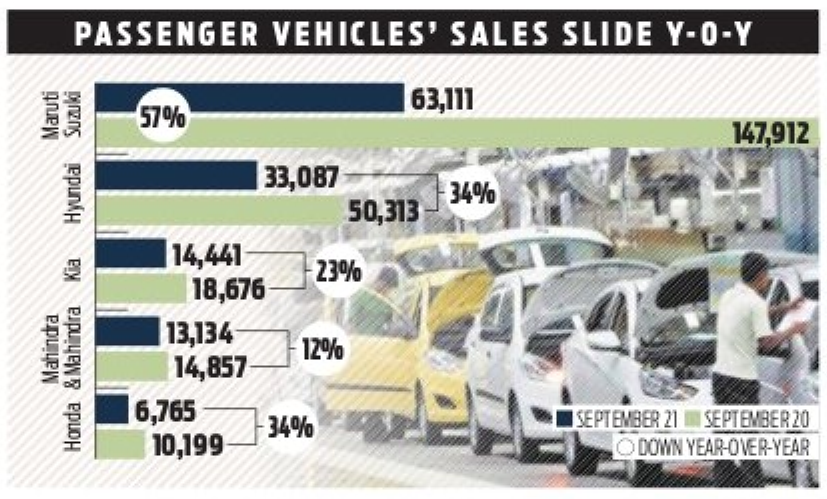
"With an impressive double-digit growth of more than 21% along with half yearly performance of $197.11 with a remarkable growth of about 57% goes to show that we are on course to achieving $400 billion export target for the fiscal," A Sakthivel, President, FIEO said.

The FIEO Chief stated recovery in the global economies and expectation of buoyant order booking position as reasons which led to the continuous growth in exports.

Global semi-conductor shortage takes auto sales in slow lane in September

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PASSENGER VEHICLES' SALES SLIDE Y-O-Y



HIT hard by global semi-conductor shortage, leading carmakers reported a big drop in September 2021 sales. Country's largest carmaker Maruti Suzuki's (MSIL) domestic passenger vehicle (PV) sales fell 57% to 63,111 units in September 2021 as against 147,912 units sold in the same month last year.

"Sales volume of the Company in September 2021 was adversely impacted due to shortage of electronic components. The Company took all possible measures to limit the adverse impact," MSIL said in a regulatory filing. In the short term, MSIL's production and sales are likely to remain under pressure as it is expecting total vehicle production in October at two of its plants to be around 60% of normal levels.

Similarly, India's second largest carmaker- Hyundai- reported a 34.2% year-on-year drop in September PV sales to 33,087 units while utility vehicle major Mahindra & Mahindra's (M&M) PV sales slipped 12% in September to 13,134 units. "The challenges around the supply of semiconductors continue to pose difficulties for the auto industry globally," Veejay Nakra, CEO, Automotive Division, M&M, said. Amidst this backdrop, M&M has announced opening of bookings for its XUV700 from October 7, 2021.

Kia Motors, one of the fastest growing PV brands in India, maintained the ranking at the fourth spot by selling 14,441 units in September, a drop of 23 %. Honda Cars registered a 34% drop in monthly domestic sales at 6,765 units.

According to analysts, the supply side constraints could potentially hurt demand for PVs, premium 2Ws during the coming festive season.

"The semi-conductor shortage has intensified with the lockdown in Malaysia from Jun '21, resulting in a severe crunch in the supply of semiconductors in the Indian automotive industry. This could potentially hurt demand for PVs, premium 2Ws, and LCVs during the upcoming festive season. Sep '21 is expected to see the worst impact of the semi-conductor shortage and H2FY22 should see gradual improvement as Malaysian capacities have come back on stream," said analysts at Motilal Oswal.

Meanwhile, Tata Motors, Skoda, Nissan, Toyota and MG Motor have reported growth in September sales.

The DoT has given three weeks time to the telecom operators to pay the penalty, a source said.

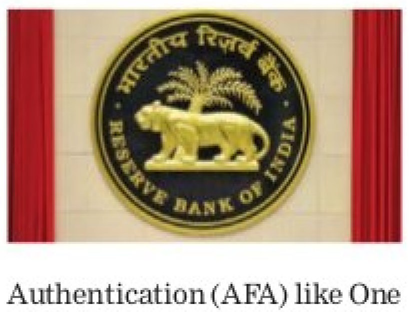
Customers' consent must in new auto-debit rules

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India has made new auto-debit rules which require banks to inform customers in advance about recurring payments due, mandatory from Friday.

With effect from October 1, all standing instructions on cards will not be honoured.

As per the guidelines, customer consent is required through an Additional Factor Authentication (AFA) like One Time Password (OTP), if the customer is setting up a new standing instruction/recurring transaction for auto-debit to their account via their debit or credit cards on a merchant like Netflix or a recurring insurance payment etc., explains Puneet Kapoor, President - Products, Alternate Channels and Customer Experience Delivery, Kotak Mahindra Bank.



"Thereafter, customers will also receive a pre-debit notification at least 24 hours before the actual date of deduction of the amount and will have an option to view/ modify/delete the recurring transaction. Further, for recurring transactions above ₹5,000, customers will have to authenticate the transaction using an OTP," Kapoor said, adding Kotak Mahindra Bank is in full compliance with the regulations and has introduced an e-mandate solution for customers. Any payment request beyond the maximum amount will need OTP-based authentication at the time of transaction.

After gas rate hike, fuel prices touch fresh peaks

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER a three-week hiatus, fuel prices are on the rise again. On Friday, petrol and diesel prices peaked at fresh levels across the country after witnessing an increase of 22 paise to 32 paise per litre.

According to notification issued by the Indian Oil Corporation, petrol price was increased by 25 paise from ₹101.64 per litre to ₹101.89 per litre and diesel became dearer by 30 paise to ₹90.17 per litre in New Delhi.

In the city of Mumbai, the price of petrol stood at ₹107.95 per litre on Friday, up 24 paise higher than it was on Thursday. Similarly, Chennai saw an increase of 22 paise in the one-litre petrol prices to ₹99.58 while in Kolkata the price of petrol stood at ₹102.47 per litre, up by 30 paise.

Coming to diesel prices, in Mumbai, it was retailed at ₹97.84 per litre on Friday. In Chennai, the prices increased by 29 paise to be sold at ₹94.74 per litre while in Kolkata, it stood at ₹93.27 per litre, which was an increase of 30 paise from Thursday's price.

Fuel rates vary across the states due to value added tax which is levied by state governments.

Clare Connor takes charge as MCC's first female prez

Former England captain Clare Connor on Friday took charge as the MCC president, becoming the first woman to hold the post in the club's 234-year-old history. Connor's nomination was announced by her predecessor and Sri Lankan legend Kumar Sangakkara at the Annual General Meeting last year but she had to wait for a year to take charge due to Covid-19.

Eye on future, HI waves goodbye to the past

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

THE comments under the messages composed by Rupinder Pal Singh and SV Sunil on Twitter is an indication of their popularity among Indian hockey fans. Every third message had the red heart emoji. Biren Lakra, too, had a similar outpouring of affection under Hockey India's post. The reaction, though, was understandable. They have all contributed to the upsurge — both in terms of performances and medals — over the last seven years. 2014 Asian Games gold, 2015 World League bronze, 2016 Champions Trophy silver, 2017 World League bronze and, of course, 2021 Olympics bronze.

Now, though, is the time to look forward to the next three years and beyond. There is another home World Cup in early 2023 followed by the Olympics in 2024. If the men's team is to properly use the momentum gained by medalling in Tokyo, you suspect they would have to medal in both those upcoming global meets.

That's the reason why Rupinder, Sunil and Lakra have decided to move away from the game they have so enriched over the last decade. In a modern sporting context, 30 (Rupinder), 31 (Lakra) and 32 (Sunil) is positively young. However, with HI having told them in no uncertain terms that their playing time will dwindle in the next Olympic cycle, they have taken the decision to retire (Sunil is taking a break but a lot of dominoes will have to fall in place if he's to wear the India jersey again).

Rupinder Pal Singh and SV Sunil

There are others too who might take the step in the days to come. With HI wanting to go down a different route considering the two global meets coming up, the message has gone out to some players that a call-up may not be forthcoming. It's in this context that Graham Reid, apart from BJ Kariappa, started overseeing the preparations of the team for the upcoming junior World Cup in November-December.

The hope is that the Australian, who has been pencilled in to travel with the contingent to the World Cup in Bhubaneswar, will earmark several players having the capacity of successfully making the jump from junior to seniors.

Centurion Mandhana lights up rain-hit Day 2

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

THUNDER and lightning wiped out almost half a day but not before Smriti Mandhana completed a famous Test hundred on Australian soil. By the time she walked back for 127, it was the highest individual score by a non-Australian in the country. By the time stumps were called, the visitors were on 276/5 after 101.5 overs. Considering almost 100 overs have already been lost, getting a result will depend on whether the pitch does some tricks or whether both captains want to set up an exciting final day. The onus, though, will initially be on India considering they are trailing 2-4 in the multi-format series.

The southpaw has been one of the leading lights from an Indian perspective and she oozed class and perfection on Friday. She was dismissed second ball on Friday — or so she thought — but was reprieved when replays showed that the bowler had overstepped. Her overnight score of 80 swelled to 101 inside the first seven hours thanks to three further hits to the boundary. It was perhaps just fitting that she brought up three figures with a pull shot off Ellyse Perry. It was a shot that got her maximum rewards on Thursday.

Even as Punam Raut opted to be watchful at the other end, Mandhana, who now has ODI and Test hundreds in Australia, raced along at the rate of knots. However, she only found mid off. At the other end, Raut prompted another round of the tedious 'walking vs not walking' debate when she walked for a faint tickle off Sophie Molineux. Even as the umpire shook his head, Rout walked after a patient 36 off 165.

Brief scores: India 276/5 in 101.5 ovs (Smriti Mandhana 127, Punam Raut 36) vs Australia.

Kamalpreet keen to resume training

BENGALURU: After finishing sixth at the Tokyo Olympics, women discus thrower Kamalpreet Kaur is keen to resume her training this month and wants to practice in wet conditions too. The athlete has taken this decision after her performance in Tokyo, where it rained during her event, which according to her, affected her performance. "I will also practice in wet conditions — try to put water inside the throwing circle (make it wet) and attempt my throws. When there is rain, the circles become wet and there is less grip on the circle and the legs will not be able to balance well and it might be slippery too. So, you will not be able to generate the speed and power, which is required," she said.

Punjab in contention after win over Kolkata

MARTIN JOSEPH @ Kochi

WITH the top three spots on the table seemingly locked up by Chennai Super Kings (already qualified), Delhi Capitals and Royal Challengers Bangalore, the scramble is for the fourth spot. Kolkata Knight Riders, who had a chance to consolidate their position at No 4, lost a thriller to Punjab Kings, who still remain in contention for play-off berth.

Punjab had their task cut out as the two met at the Dubai International Cricket Stadium on Friday. Struggling for consistency, Punjab skipper KL Rahul felt it would serve his side better to have a target to chase so he opted to field and Kolkata went onto post 165/7, thanks to their new sensation Venkatesh Iyer who smashed 67, his best score yet.

And after a quickfire start given by Mayank Agarwal (40 off 27), KL Rahul top-scored with 67 to give Punjab a morale-boosting win.

With the result, three teams — Kolkata, Mumbai Indians and Punjab — are with 10 points and remain in the race to qualify for play-off berth.

Earlier Kolkata, thanks to another impressive knock from Iyer put up what was a challenging total on a surface that had something for the spinners. But once Iyer perished, they lost the way as none in the middle-order made a telling contribution.

Brief scores: Kolkata Knight Riders 165/7 in 20 ovs (Venkatesh 67, Tripathi 34, Rana 31, Arshdeep 3/32) lost to Punjab Kings 168/5 in 19.3 ovs (Rahaul 67, Mayank 40).

DC VS MI

SOLID DELHI EYE PLAY-OFFS

The return of Shreyas Iyer has given KKR additional options up front while UAE surfaces have enabled them to utilise R Ashwin and Axar Patel to their full potential. The one area of concern is that the middle-order, barring Rishabh Pant, haven't faced too many balls in this leg. The likes of Shimron Hetmyer has only faced 21 balls so far.

MUMBAI ON A TIGHT ROPE

MI welcomed the sight of a biffing Kieron Pollard and Hardik Pandya the other night. But they need more, both from their batters and bowlers, if they are to get out of this hole they find themselves in. Eyes will also be on the likes of Rahul Chahar, Ishan Kishan and Suryakumar Yadav — three of India's 15 man WC squad — to see if they can recover.

Head-to-head: Matches: 29, DC win: 13, MI win: 16, Tied: 1 | Live on SS1 @ 3.30 PM

CSK VS RR

CHENNAI LOOK TO MAINTAIN RUN

CSK have won four on the bounce. If they can make it five in a row, they will virtually lock a place in the top two. What's worked for them is the fact that their batters have been liberated. Somebody like an Ambatu Rayudu, for example, is striking at over 170 runs in this leg. Both Ruturaj Gaikwad and Faf du Plessis are setting them an ideal platform too.

LAST CHANCE FOR RAJASTHAN

A hat-trick of losses has condemned RR to seventh place. A non-existent middle-order, an ineffective Chris Morris and spinners going wicketless have all contributed to RR's slide. Saying all that, the talent is still there. If they are to have a miniscule chance of finishing on top, this is a match they can't afford to lose.

Head-to-head: Matches: 24, CSK win : 15, RR: 9, Tied: 1 | Live on SS1 @ 7.30 PM

ECONOMIC PAIN

EU inflation highest since 2008 as fuel cost surges

Price rise hits 3.4% in September, up from 3.0% recorded in August

LONDON

SHARPLY higher oil and gas prices pushed annual inflation in the 19 countries that use the euro to its highest in more than a decade in September.

Economists and central bankers say the jump in energy prices is temporary but it has governments nonetheless scrambling to ease the pain of higher utility bills for households.

The European Union statistics agency Eurostat said Friday that inflation came in at 3.4 per cent, up from 3.0 per cent in August and the highest since 2008. The overall inflation level was boosted by a jolting 17.4 per cent increase in energy prices.

Economists and the European Central Bank say the recent burst of inflation is temporary and will ease next year.

That hasn't removed fears of prices spikes and gas shortages this winter due to an extremely tight market for natural gas. Natural gas traded at 94.46 euros ($109.36) per megawatt hour in Europe on Friday, almost five times higher than at the start of this year.

Reasons include strong demand in Asia, less supply from Russia, and cold weather this past winter that left reserves depleted.

Higher prices for natural gas and electricity have spread concern among European governments, which are taking steps to limit rises in residential utility bills through subsidies and tax cuts. Natural gas is a key fuel for generating electricity, so higher gas prices mean costlier electricity bills.

Core inflation, which excludes volatile fuel and food, was more modest at 1.9 per cent. Despite higher recent inflation readings, the European Central Bank has indicated it has no plans to tighten monetary policy in response.

The central bank sees higher inflation as the result of transient factors such as supply bottlenecks and statistical comparisons to extremely low energy prices a year earlier during the depths of the pandemic recession.

The bank predicts inflation will recede next year, and ECB President Christine Lagarde has said it will not 'overreact' by scaling back its support for the economy in order to counter inflation that is only temporary. The central bank's staff projections foresee inflation of only 1.7 per cent next year and 1.5 per cent in 2023, short of the bank's goal of 2 per cent considered best for the economy.

The bank's support measures include 1.85 trillion euros ($2.14 trillion) in bond purchases slated to run at least through March 2022, a step aimed at holding down market borrowing costs for companies. AFP

Aus-EU talks delayed amid sub fallout

BRUSSELS

A round of free trade talks between the European Union and Australia has been postponed by one month in the wake of a dispute over the Australian government's decision to cancel a multibillion-euro French submarine deal, EU and Australian officials said on Friday. EU commission chief spokesman Eric Mamer said the decision to delay the meeting was taken by the EU's executive arm. Asked whether it was a retaliation measure, Mamer said "the EU is not in the business of punishing anybody.

"Miriam Garcia Ferrer, the EU commission spokesperson in charge of trade, insisted the delay does not mean the end of discussions while Australian Trade Minister Dan Tehan said he would continue planning to meet with his EU counterpart Valdis Dombrovskis next week to discuss the negotiations now set for November.

"A free trade agreement is in the interests of Australia and the European Union and will strengthen our relationship that is built on a shared commitment to democracy, human rights, the rule of law and economic openness," Tehan said.

"We understand the French reaction to our submarine decision, but ultimately any nation must act in its national interest," he added.

The EU launched negotiations for a trade agreement with Australia in 2018. The 12th round of talks was scheduled to take place later this month.

RUSSIA HOLDS ITS FIRST ROYAL WEDDING SINCE 1917

Russia on Friday held its first royal wedding since the 1917 Bolshevik revolution toppled the Romanov monarchy

LAVISH CEREMONY

Grand Duke George Mikhailovich Romanov, 40, and his Italian fiance Rebecca Virginia Bettarini, 39, were wed at Saint Isaac's cathedral in the former imperial capital Saint Petersburg

The guest list of around 1,500 people included key names like Konstantin Malofeyev—a billionaire close to the Kremlin, and officials from Russian foreign ministry

SON OF GRAND DUCHESS MARIA ROMANO

Born in Madrid, Romanov is the son of Grand Duchess Maria Vladimirovna Romanova, the self-proclaimed heir to Russia's imperial throne

Bettarini is the granddaughter of Grand Duke Kirill, a cousin of Nicholas II, the last Russian tsar who was executed along with his wife Alexandra and five children by the Bolsheviks in 1918

THE DUO MET IN BRUSSELS

Romanov, who graduated from Oxford and spent much of his life in France, met Bettarini in Brussels, where he worked in the European Parliament. He also held jobs at Russian mining giant Norilsk Nickel

The couple moved to Russia three years ago, settling first in the Moscow suburbs before relocating to the city centre next to the Kremlin

Former cop identified as French serial killer on the run for 35 years

PARIS

A former policeman suspected of being the serial killer behind some of France's oldest unsolved cases has been found dead after 35 years of dodging arrest, just as police were closing in on his identity.

Francois Verove, 59, killed himself at his rented home in the south of France after receiving a summons for questioning, leaving a "written statement" and with DNA evidence then confirming his identity, the Paris prosector and sources said.

The man, nicknamed "Le Grele" ("pockmarked"), had been wanted by police since the 1980s for the murder and rape of young girls, but was never caught.

"DNA tests which were immediately ordered by the investigating magistrate established a match between the genetic profile found at several crime scenes and that of the dead man," she added.

Verove committed suicide in a rented apartment, leaving a written confession, a source close to the case told AFP.In the most notorious case, he was suspected of raping and murdering an 11-year-old girl named Cecile who was found dead in the basement of the building where she lived in the 19th arrondissement of Paris.Over the years, investigators came to believe that the suspect may have been part of the gendarmerie at the time of the crimes, and established a DNA profile of him. In recent months, an investigating magistrate had begun questioning 750 gendarmes.

Venezuela introduces new currency with 6 fewer zeros

CARACAS

THE official exchange rate of the Venezuelan bolivar went from 4.18 million to the US dollar overnight to just 4.18 as the impoverished country slashed six zeroes off its inflation-battered currency on Friday to simplify transactions.

It is the third banknote reform in 13 years, with 14 zeroes shed since 2008—giving Venezuela the dubious distinction of becoming the South American country to have lopped the most zeroes off its currency.

"Everything expressed in national currency shall be divided by a million," the central bank announced.

Greek-French pact harms NATO: Turkey

Ankara: The Turkish government said Friday that a recent defence deal between Greece and France threatens to harm the NATO alliance. France and Greece announced this week a defense and security deal worth around 3 billion euros ($3.5 billion), which includes the Greek purchase of three French warships

NO TRADITIONAL RITES

Japan's princess to marry commoner this month in muted ceremony

TOKYO

AFTER years of controversy, Japan's Princess Mako will marry this month, but she will forego traditional rites and will not take a usual payment given to royal women marrying commoners.

"Princess Mako will marry on October 26," an Imperial Household Agency official told AFP, adding that "wedding ceremony, reception banquet and other rituals won't be held, and a lump-sum payment won't be provided."

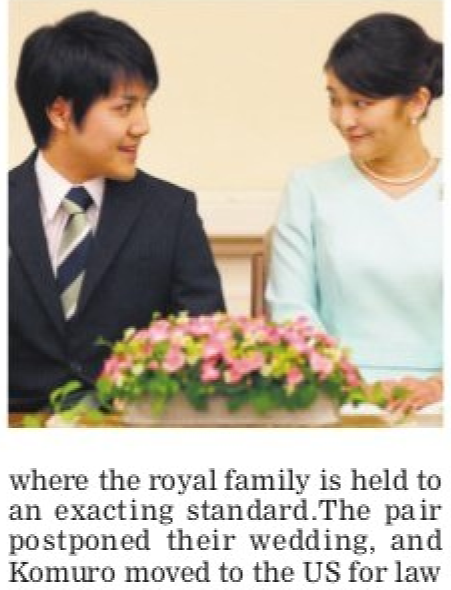
Princess Mako, who is the niece of Emperor Naruhito, has been engaged to sweetheart Kei Komuro since 2017.

But the union has come under criticism, with the agency saying the 29-year-old princess was suffering complex post-traumatic stress disorder because of media coverage.

Mako, the daughter of Japan's crown prince, has endured years of sniping and stalling over her plans to marry Komuro, also 29.

Japan's imperial succession rules mean that Mako will lose her title after the marriage.

But her partner has still been heavily scrutinised over allegations that his mother borrowed money from a former fiance and failed to repay it.



After tabloid reporting on the claims, a furore erupted around the young couple in a country where the royal family is held to an exacting standard.The pair postponed their wedding, and Komuro moved to the US for law school in a move that was widely seen as a bid to defuse the negative attention. Crown Prince Akishino last year said he supported his daughter's marriage, but that she needed to win the public's "understanding".

However, the pair appear to have decided they have waited long enough, and are now expected to move to New York after marrying.

Komuro returned to Japan earlier this week to a media frenzy, with particular scrutiny of his newly grown ponytail.

He is observing Japan's mandatory 14-day quarantine for overseas arrivals, and local media said the couple were expected to reunite on October 11.

N Korea fires anti-aircraft missile ahead of UNSC meet

SEOUL

NORTH Korea has successfully fired a new anti-aircraft missile, state media said on Friday, as the UN Security Council prepares to meet in response to a recent flurry of weapons tests by the nuclear-armed nation.

The anti-aircraft missile had a "remarkable combat performance" and included twin rudder controls and other new technologies, the official Korean Central News Agency said.

A picture in the official Rodong Sinmun newspaper showed the missile ascending at an angle into the sky from a launch vehicle on Thursday.

It is the latest in a series of tension-raising steps by Pyongyang, which had until recently been biding its time since the change in US administrations in January.

In September, it launched what it said was a long-range cruise missile, and earlier this week tested what it described as a hypersonic gliding vehicle, which South Korea's military said appeared to be in the early stages of development.

On Friday, social media was abuzz with the Google Doodle of Tamil superstar Sivaji Ganesan, created by a city-based artist

Reel touch

ANILA KURIAN

GOOGLE Doodle's timely designs are often a talking point. More so on Friday when social media was buzzing about the creation – a doodle of Tamil superstar Sivaji Ganesan on his 93rd birth anniversary on October 1 – by a Bengaluru artist.

Designed by freelance graphic designer Noopur Rajesh Choksi, the 28-year-old was approached by the Google team this year. Choksi's social media handles have been flooded with appreciation messages from all over the world, including Ganesan's grandson, Vikram Prabhu. "He resonated with the artwork and said I've done a good job paying tribute to his grandfather," says Choksi.

The search engineer who contacted her was looking for a tribute fit for Sivaji as "one of India's finest method actors and widely considered among the nation's most influential actors of all time." Some of the popular films of Ganesan include Parasakti, Thillana Mohanambal, Pasamalar, Thevar Magan among others.

Hailing from Gujarat, Choksi didn't grow up watching Ganesan's movies. But when she was approached for the project, instead of watching his movies, she felt it's best to approach his ardent fans and family members. "I love that he pioneered 'method acting'. The kind of looks he embodied in his roles and the characters he chose to play...It was amazing to learn about his different facets. I also watched a lot of clips to capture his essence even though I had a language barrier," says the artist who has been in Bengaluru for four years now.

Choksi draws inspiration from his roles as a lawyer, policeman, and politician. "I was specifically told not to replicate the looks he's worn over the years but be reminiscent of it - I added my own twist. The Google typography also had to be weaved in, so I've used the kind of style we used to see in old Indian movie posters," she adds.

The graduate of the National Institute of Design Ahmedabad, enjoys creating art using emotions and stories. "I work largely on album covers, vinyl records and everything related to art; I am even working on murals now," says Choksi.

TWITTER WATCH

Sivaji Ganesan's grandson, Vikram Prabhu, took to social media to pen his thoughts. "Appreciate the people from Google India & their guest artist Noopur Rajesh Choksi for the doodle art. Another proud moment!?? Love him and miss him more every year! (sic)," he tweeted.

40 and single? Here's a platform to forge new bonds and open a new chapter in your life

Singles & the city

EXPRESS FEATURES

MOVING beyond dating apps and interactions behind digital walls, here's a chance for singles over 40 to build a real bond by meeting and greeting people face to face. Abrar Basith, owner of a fintech enterprise and a father of two, felt that dating apps serve little purpose. Thus came about The Mixers, a platform for singles of different sections to explore new relationships and build new bonds with like-minded people. Curated by Ignited Experiences, the event management firm is run by Basith, Dhruv Seth and Pooja Visvanath.

Following the success of three mixer events within two months — in August and September— the group is back, this time with the theme Ignite Connexions. The event is meant for 'singletons' aged above 40 years who are looking for genuine chemistry and good quality relationships.

"The pandemic has definitely created a demand for a forum which allows for pressure-free social interaction. In this event, we try to bring people together and facilitate interactions through interesting ice-breaking sessions," says Basith, who also believes that people are 'jaded' with dating apps. "During a survey conducted at our previous mixers in August and September, we found that 94 per cent were bored of dating apps. Therefore, we felt that we had to go back to old-fashioned ways of meeting people," adds Basith.

(Top): A mixer event held earlier this September at Hatworks Boulevard

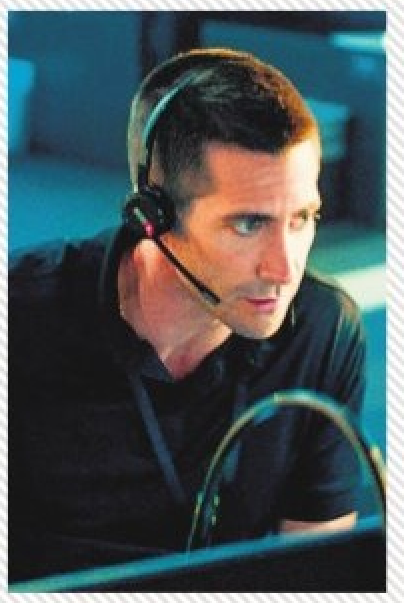
According to Ashwini Jaisim, one of the organisers of the event, there is a void and lack of scope in building real relationships for singles over 40. "The divorce rate among those above 40 is high. As a divorcee myself, I know how hard it is to meet people and begin a new chapter when you are shouldering big responsibilities, both financially and socially. Moreover, nobody has time to set you up. This event will surely voice the concerns of singles and maybe help find the right partner," says Jaisim, who quit her corporate job to curate networking events.

The ice-breaking sessions include dare cube, corporate jargons, dancing, and 'shoot your shots'.

According to the organisers, the participants were chosen based on 'personal networks', who were then given a questionnaire comprising queries related to likes and dislikes, tastes and preferences, traits and skills, among others. "Upon receiving the responses, we filtered out like-minded applicants and then zeroed- in on the ones who qualify to the top 40 list," says Jaisim.

The event is taking place on October 3 at Cantan, Lavelle Road between 4pm to 7pm. For more details, check out @themixer.blr on Instagram.

WATCH LIST



THE GUILTY (ENGLISH)

Streaming: Netflix

The film is a remake of the 2018 thriller by the same name. Joe Baylor is an asthmatic 911 dispatcher. Demoted from his post as an LAPD officer, the disgraced cop is quick to judge the people who call him in need of help until he receives a call from a terrified woman. Determined to help her and her child whilst scarce on details, you follow Gyllenhaal's performance as he fumbles his way through figuring his predicament. The film is a subtle commentary on police work and its errors as viewers slowly understand the circumstances as to why Baylor has been demoted.

Cast: Jake Gyllenhaal, Riley Keough, Paul Dano, Ethan Hawke

SHIDDAT (HINDI)

Streaming: Disney+ Hotstar

Coming to screens near you, Shiddat is a thrilling romantic drama that tells the story of star-crossed lovers, Kartika and Jaggi. The couple, though electric in their chemistry, encounters a problem as Jaggi is set to tie the knot with someone else. Watch as the film tries to capture all the trademarks of a Bollywood drama, complete with spice, heartbreak and passionate romance.

Cast: Radhika Madan, Sunny Kaushal, Mohit Raina, Diana Penty

FIT BIT

APANASANA

(KNEE-TO-CHEST POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'apana' means downward-moving life force and 'asana' means pose. It eliminates toxins, stimulates the organs and releases tension. Here, the head is in a neutral position and the yogi works to press the spine into the floor, which creates stability and allows for increased pressure to be applied to the legs. With the knees pulled into the chest, one can keep the arms alongside the body or bind the posture by wrapping the forearms around the top shin and clasping the hands. The pressure created in the chest and abdomen increases blood flow to the lungs and internal organs while also stimulating the colon to eliminate gas and waste.

STEPS

- Lie on the floor flat on your back. Then, bend both knees to bring it close to your chest.
- Interlace the fingers on your shin. Your heels will reach your hip socket.
- Hug your knees near your armpit or near the centre of the chest. Relax your shoulders and neck.
- On every inhalation, feel the belly pressing against the thigh. Similarly, on every exhalation, your belly will draw away from your thigh.
- Feel the muscles of lower trapezius engage and pull the shoulder blades down the back. Look up at the ceiling.
- Draw the pubic bone near the belly button and lengthen the lower back.
- To release, bring your hands to the side of the body. Finally, straighten your legs. Repeat this asana 10-12 times.

BENEFITS

- The mind remains calm.
- Reduces stomach and hip fat, and constipation.
- Best asana for those who have high BP, hairfall and greying.
- Rebalances your energy.
- Massage your abdominal organs.

LIMITATIONS

- If you have injuries in the neck, hip, knee or shin, avoid this.
- People recovering from a hernia or any abdominal surgery must avoid this.
- Pregnant women should seek advice from a yoga expert before practising this asana.
- Do not perform this asana immediately after eating your meal. Minimum 2-3 hours of gap is a must.

— by N Elumalai, PhD scholar (Yoga Science) at Meenakshi Academy of Higher Education & Research, Chennai

Rubi Chakravarti

Writer, actor and funny girl

THIS week went by in a blur and I am not paraphrasing. It went by in a haze because I willed it to. I had a severe attack of vertigo (dotage must be catching up), and without making light of the situation, it was experientially terrifying! We take ourselves, our well-being and our mental fragility for granted, that when one is 'swept off ones feet', literally, you lose all sense of perception. It enveloped me without a warning!

I have always been an extremely light sleeper, sometimes averaging just a couple of hours of sleep at night and nothing during the day. Just about when the pandemic struck, I averaged about 4 to 5 hours at night and I put it down to altered circumstances. Obviously, I wasn't my bright and chirpy self in the mornings, and doing simple chores and tasks took the mickey out of me and made me irritable and snappy. Everything was explained away by that one dirty word…Covid! Everything suffered…my work, my relationship and me.

I know things were coming to an end when, for a couple of days, I dozed for just about two hours at night. Yes! I am a responsible adult and I played Buddhist chants, soothing music (guaranteed to send me to slumber-land), listened to Zen, Ben and Hen masters, but to no avail. I was doomed to be in insomniac hell! Then one fine night, as I turned onto my right side and tried to adjust my sleeping position, hoping that perhaps I could doze off, when suddenly, I felt my head leave my body and proceed to roll off my bed! I swear I actually reached out to catch my rolling noggin before it hit the floor! The room spun around me and I could feel my eyes inadvertently dart back and forth as I tried to control my panic and my nausea. I promptly visited my ENT friend Dr Jasreman Kaur, who performed the Epley maneuver (a maneuver to move the ear crystals back into place), which had me screaming like a werewolf and then onwards, mercifully, the world stopped moving! But it shook me up and I was lethargic, unresponsive and brooding for days.

Sandeep Maini, Latha Reddy, Manu S Pillai and Gitanjali Maini

A little (intention) birdie seemed to whisper this in Raina Singwi's ear and promptly a beautiful hamper of 'mood-enhancers' appeared from her eclectic store Maeva in Indiranagar. The store boasts of dried-flower arrangements which last a lifetime, plus a host of candles, diffusers and mood enhancing bric-a-brac which certainly enhanced my mood with their pretty colours. I used their jasmine and vanilla-scented reed diffuser last night before I went to bed. A strange calm swept over me and I don't know if all the right hormones have been activated but it certainly helped! I am a convert and a believer in alternative therapy now! I loved their ready-made re-useable rangoli mats made with dried flowers, potpourri and many such beautiful and sustainable products. I know exactly where I'm headed to do the bulk of my Deepavali shopping now!

There is sustenance for the soul and mind too. This was more than amply taken care of by Sandeep & Gitanjali Maini SGM Foundation which hosts of a slew of art and cultural events, book readings and discussions by luminaries in different fields of expertise. This week, it was a discussion on an eagerly awaited book False Allies: India's Maharaja's in the age of Ravi Verma, by the very erudite and young author/ historian Manu S Pillai. The Sahitya Akademi Award winner was charming and well-versed with historical facts and it wasn't surprising that he managed to charm Indira Chandrashekar, who was in conversation with him, Latha Reddy, our erstwhile ambassador and the audience with his anecdotes and witty one-liners. It was a beautifully curated evening with champagne, canapes and auld Bangaloreans, a surefire 'mood enhancer'!

HUG IN A MUG

As the world celebrated International Coffee Day on Friday, here are a few easy recipes you can brew at home

EGGLESS COFFEE CINNAMON ROLL

RECIPE BY PRIYAA NANDA, @FATTYBAOGOESPLACES

INGREDIENTS

■ All purpose flour 4 cups ■ Brown sugar 2 cups ■ Caster sugar 1 tsp ■ Cinnamon powder 1 tbsp ■ Butter 200 gm ■ Yeast 1 tsp ■ Milk 1 cup ■ Coffee powder 2 tsp ■ Salt 1/4 teaspoon ■ Baking powder 1/2 tsp ■ Baking soda 1/4 tsp

METHOD

Activate the yeast in a bowl of milk for 10 min (without stirring it) with 1 tsp of caster sugar

Add all-purpose flour, melted butter, salt, baking powder, baking soda to the activated yeast. Mix well and form a dough.

Let the dough rest for one hour. Cover with a damp cloth. It should be double the size in the end.

To make the filling, add brown sugar, melted butter, cinnamon powder , coffee powder in a bowl and mix well.

Roll out the dough into rectangular shape of 1/4 inch thickness using a rolling pin.

Spread the cinnamon-coffee filling across gently.

Now, tightly roll into a cylindrical log and cut them in to mini rolls (12-15) with the help of a sharp knife. Arrange them in a baking tin.

Pre-heat the oven to 375ºF (190ºC). Bake for 25-28 minutes until its slightly brown.

Serve the cinnamon rolls with sugar icing, cream cheese or any topping of your kind to go with a cup of lemon tea.

COFFEE POUND CAKE

RECIPE BY ALKA SHAH, @KUCHKHAASBYALKA_BLR

INGREDIENTS

■ 1 cup unsalted butter ■ 1 cup sugar ■ 4 large eggs ■ 2 cups flour ■ 1 teaspoon baking powder ■ 3/4 cup milk ■ 1 teaspoon vanilla extract ■ 1 tablespoon Nescafe coffee powder ■ 2 tablespoon Hershey Cocoa Powder ■ 4/5 broken pieces of Lindt orange ■ ½ cup broken cashew, walnuts chopped ■ ¼ cup chopped dates

METHOD

Preheat oven to 350 F or 180 C.

Sift the dry ingredients; flour, salt, baking powder.

Grease and flour the bundt pan

Using a stand mixer or with an electric beater, first beat the butter till creamy and smooth. Add the sugar and continue beating till light and fluffy.

When sugar is well incorporated, add eggs one at a time. Mix in the dry ingredients alternating with milk and vanilla. Using a spatula, combine well and transfer to the prepared pan. (If using the bundt pan, tap it on the counter a couple of times to remove any air bubbles especially along the sides of the pan.)

Bake till a cake tester or toothpick inserted in the centre comes out clean, around 30 to 35 minutes.

Cool cake completely before unmoulding onto a serving platter.

COFFEE CHEESECAKE

RECIPE BY BHANDAVYA GOWDA, @BAKEBERRIESBACON

INGREDIENTS

Take 10 gm gelatin in a bowl and add 30gm water. Keep this aside.

BISCUIT BASE:

■ 30gm melted butter ■ 70gm Marie biscuit powdered ■ Mix well and make a layer on the bottom on the cake pan and put it in the fridge. ■ Cream cheese batter: ■ 250 gm cream cheese ■ 90 gm sugar ■ 120 gm fresh cream ■ 100 gm set curd/yogurt ■ Take all this in one bowl and whisk well.

COFFEE INFUSION:

■ 1 tbsp instant coffee powder ■ 1 tbsp sugar ■ 1 tbsp water

METHOD:

Beat this together (Dalgona coffee).

Add the Dalgona coffee to the cream cheese mixture and fold both well.

Melt the gelatin in a double boiler and add to the batter. Mix well.

Pour this into the cake pan which has the biscuit layer and freeze for 2 hours.

15-MINUTE TIRAMISU

RECIPE BY: SWAPNA VENKATESH @SEROTONINSPARK

INGREDIENTS:

■ 1 cup/ 200 ml Whipping Cream ■ 1 cup / 200 gm Mascarpone ■ 3 tbsp fine caster sugar ■ 1 tsp vanilla extract ■ 1 tbsp Amaretto or Dark Rum ■ 3 cups water ■ 3 tsps instant coffee ■ 2 tbsp sugar ■ 200 gm Savoiardi Biscuits ■ Cocoa and coffee powder for dusting

METHOD

Heat the water to just under boiling point, mix in the instant coffee powder and 2 tbsps of sugar. Set aside.

In a large bowl, whip the cream with 3 tbsp of caster sugar and the vanilla extract for 3-4 minutes. Fold in the Mascarpone cheese and mix till incorporated. Add rum and whip till it gets slightly thick but remains spreadable.

Pour the black coffee into a medium-size bowl. Drop the Savoiardi biscuits in the liquid one at a time and turn them around twice in the liquid.

Remove gently and start lining the base of the dessert tray. Repeat with the rest of the biscuits till you have completely lined the base. Measure and break the biscuits before you dip them in the liquid.

Spread half of Mascarpone cream mixture over the biscuits and spread evently.

Repeat previous two steps to create layers of the coffee-soaked biscuits over the cream.

Finish with the Mascarpone cream.

Let it chill in the fridge for 2 hrs. Dust with coffee-cocoa.

THERE has been a lot of experimentation when it comes to cocktails these days. Mixologists are turning to homegrown ingredients. Customers are mixing their own alcoholic beverages with cocktail kits, using paan, curd and different herbs and spices… There's plenty going on. Here's the low-down:

Indian Cocktails

There is a huge demand for Indian cocktails or flavours inspired drinks from different regions. Tea is probably the most favourite beverage in most parts of the country. Spicy, strong and earthy tea is made by mixing black tea with Indian aromatic spices and herbs, and this in turn, lends itself to many cocktails. Cocktails using paan, curd and different herbs and spices are also becoming common in bars all across the country and world.

Craft-Bottled Beers

Craft beer has seen a rise in recent years due to customers demanding a single, distinctive product of higher quality and sensory complexity. There are different ways to be innovative in the craft brewing process and therefore opening several new possibilities to modulate flavour and other sensory properties of beer. It also reaches consumers who are looking for a specific story in one of the oldest fermented beverages.

Local Produce

For fresher cocktails, mixologists are turning to homegrown ingredients. Bartenders source their own fruits, vegetables and herbs. This allows for increased sustainability and the use of locally-farmed ingredients. The trend is expected to continue, particularly as more concepts focus on fresh and local ingredients.

Edible Flowers

Akin to meal plating, cocktails that are pleasing to the eye add to the appeal. This year's trend is edible flowers, which offer a lovely garnish and mild hints of flavour to our cocktails. Edible flowers are increasingly being seen placed in cocktails, where they are mostly employed for decoration and garnishing purposes. However, as people are becoming more aware of its flavour and health benefits, they are being used more frequently. Consumers enjoy colourful flowers, unusual flavours and textures in their drinks.

Cocktail Kits

Cocktail kits are now available, allowing people to mix their own beverages in a variety of ways. These kits are very beneficial for those who are new to mixology. These carefully-picked kits are convenient as customers no longer have to compromise on the quality of the product or service they've purchased.

NUGGETS

Chilean Kiwifruit now available in India

Chilean Kiwifruit is now available at your nearest fruit vendor and on most e-commerce platforms. Chile is one of the largest exporters of Kiwifruits in the world. India has now become one of the fastest growing markets for kiwifruits as consumers are aware about its health benefits. Commercial production of kiwifruit in the country is limited and hence is dependent on imports for its supplies.

SURESH HEBLIKAR IN SHADES OF GANDHI FOR GURU SHISHYARU

The film directed by Jadeshaa K Hampi with Tharun Kishore Sudhir as creative head, stars Sharan and Nishvika in the lead roles

CE FEATURES

UPCOMING sports drama, Guru Shishyaru, starring Sharan in the lead will have Suresh Heblikar playing a prominent role. On the occasion of Gandhi Jayanthi, the look poster of Suresh's character as revealed by the makers, portray shades of Gandhiji, especially the white dhoti and shawl, topi, and the stick in his hand.

"In the film, Suresh plays the head of a village who runs a school. A follower of Mahatma Gandhi, the character follows Bapuji's principles and philosophy. which he also uses in his daily life," says Tharun Kishore Sudhir, who is associating with the film as the co-producer and creative head. According to Tharun, Suresh, who returns to the silver screen with this project, is usually skeptical about being part of commercial subjects.

"The senior actor, who plays a prominent role got involved the moment we started the script narration. Being a noted Environmental activist, he understood the importance of this role, and his appearance will definitely bring a whole new dimension to the film," says Tharun. Directed by Jadeshaa K Hampi, Guru Shishyaru has Sharan playing a PT master, who has a rift with his students. Nishvika, who plays the female lead, will appear as a rural girl in the film. The team recently completed shooting a few portions post lockdown, and have completed eighty per cent of the shoot. The last phase of the schedule will resume soon and will be shot in Bengaluru. Guru Shishyaru will be bankrolled by Sharan's production house, Laddu Cinemas in association with Tharun Kishore Kreatiivez. Also starring Dattanna in a pivotal role, Guru Shishyaru will have music and cinematography by Ajaneesh B Loknath and Sudhakar Shetty, respectively.

APT CAPTURE OF THE ADOLESCENT TIMES OF THE MAHATMA

MOHANDAS

Cast: Samarth Hombal, Ananth Mahadevan, and Shruthi

Director: P Sheshadri

A SHARADHAA

AWARD-winning director P Sheshadri's Mohandas is a throwback to the childhood days of Bapu. The director's Midas touch, and the excellent work of the technical team and performances ensure an effective portrayal of Gandhiji when he was an innocent kid happy in his own world. Coinciding with the 150th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, director Sheshadri's first biopic is based on two books — the initial few chapters from Gandhiji's autobiography, The Story of My Experiments with Truth, and Paapu Gandhi Bapu Gandhi Aada Kathe written by Bolwar Mahamad Kunhi. With a runtime of around 90 minutes, Mohandas captures the life and times of 18th century spent in Porbandar and Rajkot.

We see glimpses of Gandhiji being fondly called Mohnia (Samarth Hombal) by his family, him getting influenced by friends into smoking, eating meat, getting involved in theft, and lying to cover his bad habits. The film trods through the change he begins to experience when he develops a conscience. The capture of Mohnia's guilt and the intense feeling of remorse when writing the truth to his father (Ananth Mahadevan), is the crux of the story, which aims to shine light on the less-discussed portions of the Mahatma's adolescent life.

The film also shows how the two stories from mythology — Satya Harischandra and Shravanakumara — had a major impact on Gandhiji's life, and how it helped him to deal with situations. The resolution of the film is about Gandhiji's father forgiving his mistakes, and making the Mahatma understand the value of truth and non-violence. There is also a brief look into his marriage and life with Kasturi Bai. Above all, the end credits accompanied with some rare pictures of Gandhiji do catch the audience's attention.

RATING 3/5

Considering the universality of the central character, Sheshadri has ensured the film not just releases in Kannada but also in Hindi and English.

Known for his craft and eye for detail, the director has accomplished the painstaking job to reflect the ambiance of that century. Credit should also go to the art director Hosmane Murthy for recreating the authenticity of the bygone era. The casting is also on point, especially Paramswami, who plays Mohnia as a child, and Samarth, who flawlessly reflects the personality of an adolescent Mohandas. Though present for a brief time, a good performance comes from Ananth Mahadevan, who plays the role of Karamchand Gandhi, and Shruthi as Putalibai.

Special mention should go to music director Pravin Godkindhi, and cinematographer, GS Bhaskar, who enhance the film with the background score and picturisation, respectively.

Mohandas might be a children's film, however, its appeal seems to have no age limitations, as it explores the lesser-known facts of Gandhiji. As for Sheshadri, he might just have to make space on his shelves for yet another glory.

THE UMBRELLA ACADEMY SEASON 3 TO PREMIERE IN 2022

Suniel Shetty to make his OTT debut with the web series Invisible Woman

CE FEATURES

Veteran Bollywood star Suniel Shetty is all set to make his OTT debut with the web series Invisible Woman. Billed as a noir action thriller, the series is directed by Tamil filmmaker Rajesh M Selva, who has previously made films like Thoongavanam and Kadaram Kondan.

Talking about his digital debut, Shetty said, "A web series today must have something to set it apart from the barrage of narratives that already exist, and the story of Invisible Woman immediately captured my attention."

Produced by Yoodlee Films, the series also stars Esha Gupta. Shetty added, "I am very happy to collaborate with Yoodlee to bring Invisible Woman to life and to make my debut in a web series as unique as this."

"We were waiting for the right project to come our way and Invisible Woman, headlined by the indefatigable Suniel Shetty, in an edgy action thriller, which is just the right one to augur this transition," said Vikram Mehra, MD, Saregama India, the musical segment of Yoodlee Films.

A SATISFYING SWANSONG FOR DANIEL CRAIG'S JAMES BOND

NO TIME TO DIE

Cast: Daniel Craig, Léa Seydoux, Rami Malek, Lashana Lynch

Director: Cary Joji Fukunaga

GOPINATH RAJENDRAN

The 25th film from the James Bond series, No Time to Die holds the distinction, for being the first in quite a few aspects. The film's director, Cary Joji Fukunaga, is the first American to direct a Bond film and is also the first to get writing credits. It also marks the first time a female screenwriter (Fleabag-fame Phoebe Waller-Bridge) is credited in a Bond film after almost 60 years. Léa Seydoux returns to play the role of Madeleine Swann, making her the first female lead to appear in successive Bond films while Jeffrey Wright, who plays the recurring character and Bond's friend Felix Leiter, becomes the first actor to play that character three times. As for technology, the film is the first to have sequences shot with 65mm IMAX film cameras. And needless to say, this Bond film, No Time to Die, was the first major Hollywood film to be affected by the pandemic. And yet, despite all these firsts, it's one 'last' that the fans of this franchise will remember this film for: This is the last outing of Daniel Craig as the famous M16 agent, 007.

When ghosts of his past come back to haunt him, Bond has to forgo his one true love and a lot more, to save the world from a bioweapon named Project Heracles. In a world in which everyone seems to have shades of grey, No Time to Die brings to the party a new villain in the form of Lyutsifer Safin (Rami Malek). It also brings back the franchise's long-time regular, both in the novels and the films, Ernst Stavro Blofeld (Christoph Waltz). And yet, more than these adversaries, it's the race against time in both his professional and personal life that poses the biggest challenge for Bond. Director Cary Joji Fukunaga, in his first major outing, makes Bond look the oldest he has ever been, and it adds a sense of vulnerability to a character that's usually so invincible that he can bring an army down while wearing his tuxedo and holding a martini… shaken and not stirred, of course.

As one of the longest-running film series, James Bond films have had their share of politically incorrect content that even a license to kill wouldn't save them in today's times. From dressing up as a Japanese person, indulging in casual racism, manhandling women, and even refusing to take no for an answer, Bond's previous iterations have had an infamous tryst with the dark side. As Judi Dench's M said in GoldenEye, "I think you're a sexist, misogynist dinosaur. A relic of the Cold War." Thankfully, along with that version of M, these characteristics of Bond have retired too, and after days of high-flying action, innumerable Bond girls and one-dimensional villains who were put to the sword by the likes of Sean Connery, Roger Moore, and Pierce Brosnan, we have had a 'functional' Bond in Daniel Craig. It's that air of duty, along with a healthy dose of vulnerability that's unusual for this franchise, that makes No Time to Die one of the best Bond films and a perfect send-off for Craig.

The craft is great too. Hans Zimmer's score elevates this film, as does cinematography by Linus Sandgren (La La Land) which does a great job of covering a wide range of terrain and bringing in dynamism to the action sequences. Fans of the franchise might also notice how people indulge more in a war of words rather than of the traditional variety. The action that has made this series a genre-defining one, isn't as much on display here, and I mean this as a compliment, as it all feels organic. When we do get the action bits though, they are a treat. Fukunaga also laces the film with references and callbacks to previous Bond films. Persian Cats are synonymous with the black and white iterations of Ernst Stavro Blofeld, and has become a villain den staple, right from Team Rocket leader Giovanni in Pokemon to the Austin Powers film series. The cat gets referenced as Q's pet. Craig utters the insanely famous 'Bond, James Bond' line in the oddest of scenes in an innately comical manner.

RATING 3.5/5

The runtime is a tad too long, and perhaps a strong villain was needed too. However, Fukunaga makes up for it, along with screenwriters Neal Purvis, Robert Wade and Waller-Bridge, by coming up with well-written female characters. Madeleine Swann (Léa Seydoux) goes all The Spy Who Loved Me over Bond who is battling unresolved trauma stemming from the death of Vesper Lynd in Casino Royale. On the other hand, we also have Captain Marvel-fame Lashana Lynch playing Nomi, a new 00 agent. The man himself, Craig, proves once again why his take on the British Agent will be an important one in the evolution of a character that's more than 60 years old. No Time to Die's Bond is no longer the epitome of extraordinary human ability: he pants when he runs, he bleeds (more often than we have seen in a JB film), often limps, and why, has bullets even meeting his wrinkled skin. While a character like James Bond can never be relatable to a common man, Fukunaga makes this hero an impulsive and delicate individual, and an expendable cog in Her Majesty's secret service, with the pendulum of time hanging over him like a guillotine.

Unlike in previous iterations in which 007 was on the driver's seat of the film's events, No Time to Die's Bond is often reactive, and it's a version we haven't seen for a long time. This allows the latest iteration to be a mishmash of genres that works in favour of the film. No Time to Die is a fitting finale to Daniel Craig's James Bond and the makers have tastefully adapted this old spy for the modern world. Where does this franchise go from here? Well, Tomorrow Never Dies.
